Strike Cripples Five Airlines

WASHINGTON (AP)—A machinists union strike crippled operations of five major airlines today.

More than 35,000 members of AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists began walking off their jobs at 6 a. m. local time. A half hour later a spokesman announced the five airlines—Eastern, Northwest, National, Trans World and United—had canceled all originating flights.

Strike spreads westward. In some cases, the spokesman said, through flights were continuing to their final destinations. Picket lines formed at New York, Washington and other airports in the populous Eastern section of the nation at 6 a. m. EDT. The strike then spread westward from one time zone to the next.

The five airlines normally carry more than 250,000 passengers daily, according to an airlines survey, on flights blanketing the United States and spanning the globe. Last-ditch negotiations failed to resolve the labor dispute that began last year.

LBJ Deplores Failure. At his Texas Ranch, President Johnson deplored the failure of the union and airlines to reach agreement on wages and other issues. He ordered the Civil Aeronautics Board to work to minimize inconvenience to the public and told the Defense Department to report immediately on any problems that arise.

The union said, however, that all IAM workers involved in military aircraft contracts would remain on the job. Johnson also asked Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien to use every means of moving the mails as rapidly as possible. The President was especially concerned that there be no delay in mail to servicemen in Viet Nam.

Serve 231 U.S. Cities. The five airlines serve 231 cities in the United States and 23 cities abroad. Their 94,000 employees represent about .64 per cent of the industry's total employment. In terms of revenue, passenger miles the five firms account for 61 per cent of domestic trunk airline operations.

The airlines said that if no substitute services were provided, the strike would leave 68 cities without trunk air service. The Civil Aeronautics Board, on White House orders, called in separately Thursday night representatives of 13 local service airlines, supplemental airlines that specialize in charter operations and seven trunk airlines not threatened with a strike.

CAB transportation specialists worked until late in the night to find possible means of handling the traffic normally served by the five airlines' 5,000 daily flights.

"No decision was reached," a CAB spokesman said, but it was likely that flights would be re-

Will Call Downtown Bids 15th See $2,342,000 Cost, 135 Units

Bids for downtown's first housing project estimated to cost $2,342,000 and providing 135 units to be known as Roundout Gardens will be called for July 15, the date fixed last month. Alexander Yosman, executive director of the Kingston Housing Authority announced today.

Expect September Contract. George E. Yerry Jr., KHA chairman, on June 15 announced plans for the bidding following conferences in New York with Herman Hillman, regional director of the Public Housing Authority and other federal officials.

It is expected that bids will be opened on or about Aug. 15 and that a contract will be awarded on Sept. 1 or near that date.

The housing site is bounded by lower Hasbrouck Avenue, Murray, East Pierpont and Meadow Streets. The site was cleared earlier this year and the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency is acquiring properties for the clearing of a second site just below that on which the first housing is to be constructed.

It was first planned to use a former junkyard property off Hasbrouck Avenue and Murray Street as the second site, but (Continued on Page 12, Col. 4)

Saugerties Hears Of Renewed Hope For Own Hospital

Few services are more desperately needed by growing communities today than hospitals. To see a modern, new hospital established in Saugerties has long been the dream of many local civic and political leaders but, for one reason or another, the plan has had its ups and downs; suffered setbacks a'ning the way.

Now the idea is back in the ascendency, based primarily on the fact that the Federal Government offers more and more (Continued on Page 12, Col. 3)

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The state has the power to limit the sale of obscene books, magazines and other materials to children, says the state Court of Appeals.

The state's highest court issued that decision Thursday in a case that challenged anti-obscenity laws passed by the 1965 Legislature.

Recessed 'Til Sept. 19. The court, which recessed until Sept. 19, also:

—Upheld the state's "stop-and-risk" law.

—Refused to overturn the conviction of a Chicago real estate broker for his part in obtaining a liquor license for the Playboy Club in New York City.

—Ordered a lower court to hold a new hearing on a Long Island school board's refusal to HELPING HAND IN HANOI—Two American pilots help each other as they and other flyers, captured after their planes were shot down over North Viet Nam, were marched through the streets of Hanoi July 6. According to the Communist North Vietnamese News Agency, thousands of people lined the route of the march to cheer the captives and call for "death of the American air pirates." Two Planes Downed, Air Action Furious

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U. S. fighter-bombers blasted oil, rail and missile sites in North Viet Nam Thursday, dodged Communist MIGs and missiles and knocked out four torpedo boats, the U. S. command reported.

Three From Carries. In a day of furious air action, two American planes were shot down. The pilot of one was rescued; the other is missing. The four torpedo boats were spotted by reconnaissance planes near a coastal island about 30 miles southeast of Haiphong. The Navy said the camouflaged boats opened fire.

Three attack flights were launched from the carriers Constellation and Hancock. They reported sinking two of the torpedo boats trying to flee, heavily damaging another and leaving the fourth beached and burning. It was the third attack on North Vietnamese torpedo boats within a week.

No Significant Contact. Both U. S. and Vietnamese military headquarters reported only minor skirmishes in the ground war in South Viet Nam. A U. S. spokesman said there was no significant contact with the enemy in the past 24 hours.

The Navy reported that its planes which raided the Haiphong fuel depot Thursday had just about finished the destruction of the port facilities for unloading and storing oil—including two vital oil-pumping stations—following the first attack there 10 days ago. The announcement indicated only (Continued on Page 21, Col. 1)

Problem Sensitive. The problem is sensitive for U. S. strategists because it directly involves American lives — and because they have found no sure way of safeguarding the prisoners' welfare.

But even with this drawback, U. S. officials cautiously acknowledge that American GIs in North Viet Nam do not appear to be getting the worst possible treatment from their captors.

A number of reports filtering out indicates that the American (Continued on Page 21, Col. 5)

Outlines Sewer District Plans For Ulster Town

Ulster Town Board Thursday night at Lake Katrine Grange Hall, heard Supervisor Thaddeus Musialkiewicz give a report of a meeting held June 27 with the town's consulting engineer, J. Kenneth Fraser, when establishment of a town sewage district was outlined.

A comprehensive study has been made for the entire town and a four-district plan was discussed. It is felt that the most feasible plan now is for a district which would run from the Kingston City line north to Lake Katrine. The recommendation will be taken to Albany after a map has been prepared. Public meetings will be held to inform the residents in the district as to cost of the project and cost to each landowner and other facts.

Discuss Arterial. Also discussed at the meeting Thursday was the new alignment of the proposed arterial route through the Town of Ulster. A lengthy report was received from Manuel E. Emanuel, town planning consultant. The present plan as outlined by the State Department of Public Works would "by-pass" the existing commercial and industrial portion of the town between Shop-Rite Square and the existing divided-lane highway at the cloverleaf leading to the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge and practically isolate it because of (Continued on Page 21, Col. 3)

Rules on Fein Case

—Upheld the conviction of industrialist Mark Fein in the Oct. 10 slaying of his bookmaker.

The court upheld the obscenity laws by a vote of 6-1. The statutes ban the sale of obscene matter to persons under the age of 17.

The laws were challenged by a New York City bookstore owner, who asked that they be declared unconstitutional. In addition, attorneys for the dealer contended that the U. S. Supreme Court had refused to recognize any state power to re-

Asks Truce Be Called At Session Wants Guarantee For 3 Countries

LONDON (AP)—The U. S. and Communist governments were silent today on Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's proposal for an immediate Geneva conference and the end of American bombing of North Viet Nam.

Mrs. Gandhi proposed Thursday that convening of the conference be followed by a truce and that a settlement include the withdrawal of all foreign forces from Viet Nam and guarantees of neutral independence for Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

Sees No Alternative. There "can be no military solution in Viet Nam" and there is no alternative to a peaceful settlement, she said in a broadcast before leaving for talks with leaders of the United Arab Republic, Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union. She arrived in Cairo today to meet with President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Most foreign governments, including those of the United States and North Viet Nam, were informed of Mrs. Gandhi's proposal in advance. She also sent a personal letter to President Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam.

The crux of her proposal was another Geneva conference of the type held in 1954 to negotiate an end to the French Indochina War. The agreements reached at that conference are theoretically still in force and Britain and the Soviet Union remain the conference cochairmen.

Mrs. Gandhi said the cochairmen, instead of debating how the warring nations could be brought to the negotiating table, should immediately convene another meeting at Geneva.

Offers Proposal. "I offer these proposals as no more than an idea," Mrs. Gandhi said. "India is committed to a peaceful solution and not to any particular solution. We would be willing to support any alternative proposal that offers hope of success."

India is the chairman of the International Control Commission set up to oversee application of the provisions of the 1954 conference. Its other members are Canada and Poland.

Mrs. Gandhi proposed that the commission supervise the truce while the conference was in session. She indicated she felt the commission should be strengthened and said India would be willing to accept "whatever additional responsibility this might entail."

The United States did not sign the 1954 Geneva accords but has indicated that it considers them a basis for negotiations. President Johnson and other administration officials have said the United States is ready for unconditional peace talks at any time but have also added that as long as North Viet Nam persists in its aggression against South Viet Nam, the United States will keep on fighting.

Insist on Same Line. North Viet Nam has insisted that withdrawal of foreign troops precede any peace negotiations and that the Viet Cong guerrillas in the South be given a seat at any negotiations. The United States opposes both demands, although it is willing for Viet Cong representatives to attend as part of the North Vietnamese delegation.

North Viet Nam's news agency announced that Jean Sainteny, a veteran of French government service in Viet Nam, had conferred in Hanoi with President Ho Chi Minh. Although on a private trip, Sainteny is believed investigating the possibilities of a settlement of the war.

Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson told the (Continued on Page 21, Col. 8)

READY FOR ANOTHER DIVE — After a cinder block was found Thursday in the Hudson River near the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge, and State Police officials considered it important evidence in the murder case pending against a former Brooklyn man, Scuba divers are shown preparing to resume search for the body of a 2½-year-old boy, believed to have been murdered at Lake Katrine. State Police Scuba divers shown above on the sheriff's department boat are Troopers J. M. Curtis and Brian O'Connor of Troop C. Other troopers participating in the search are in the sheriff's department and State Police boats above, waiting to assist. The photo was taken by Freeman photographer John H. Kruh, who with a reporter, was aboard a U. S. Army "duck" near the bridge abutment in the middle of the Hudson where the cinder block was found yesterday. Raymond Rickard, 37, formerly of Brooklyn, who was returned here from India, is under indictment for first degree murder. He is accused of the death of Victor Rossiello and with placing the body in a sack which was allegedly dropped into the Hudson from the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge.

VALUABLE FIND—State Police officials in charge of a search for evidence in the suspected murder of a 2½-year-old boy at Lake Katrine in November, 1964, consider a cinder block found by Scuba divers on the bottom of the Hudson River near the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge yesterday, important evidence in the case. The broken block was taken from the murky river at about 2 p. m. Thursday by (left) Troopers Richard Beauman and David Jones of Troop C divers unit. Search resumed this morning for traces of the body of Victor Rossiello. Accused of the alleged murder is Raymond Rickard, 37, who was taken in custody in India and extradited to this country for trial on a first degree murder charge. Authorities accused Rickard of placing the body in a sack which was dropped into the river. The block was found about mid-way across the Hudson. (Freeman photo by John H. Kruh)

O'Connor to Visit Ulster Area Today

An auto tour of Hudson Valley counties, including Ulster, Greene, Columbia and Dutchess will bring New York City Council President Frank D. O'Connor, Democratic hopeful for governor, to Kingston some time tonight.

Democratic leaders of all four mid-Hudson Valley counties have scheduled luncheons and garden parties to honor the candidate considered the front-runner for the Democratic nomination.

To Meet Area Delegates. O'Connor is expected to meet with the 10 Dutchess Democratic delegates who on Thursday announced their support for Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

In an Associated Press report today, O'Connor said he expects the endorsement of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, (D-N.Y.).

O'Connor, who launched his campaign with a flying Upstate tour Thursday and continues it today with a Hudson Valley auto trip, said he was sure Kennedy would support him at the Democratic state convention Sept. 7-8 in Buffalo.

"I am sure he wants a winner as we all do and will endorse one candidate — O'Connor," the candidate told a news conference at his last stop Thursday, Albany.

Denied 4 Years Ago. O'Connor, who was denied the nomination four years ago, re-

European, Pacific Veteran Bohan Given Command Of Fleet Oil Tanker

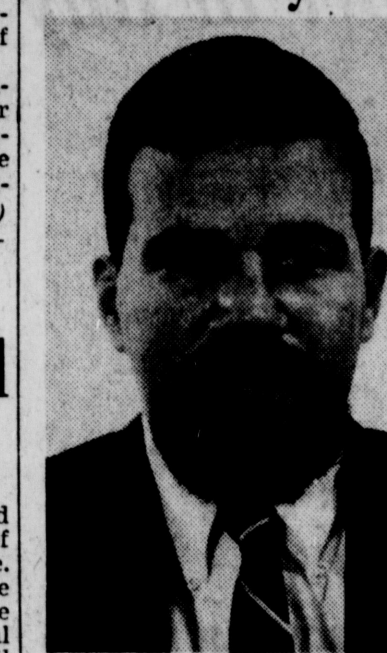

A former area resident, Captain Norman C. Bohan of the U. S. Navy assumed command of the Fleet Oil Tanker Nanthala, July 5 at the U. S. Naval Station in Newport, R. I.

Present at the ceremonies were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bohan of River Road, Ulster Park.

Prior to entering the United States Naval Academy in 1940, Captain Bohan graduated from Kingston High School and attended the Cochran Bryan Preparatory School in Annapolis, Md. He was also an Eagle Scout in the Boy Scouts of America and a member of the U. S. Naval Reserve, Surface Division, Ossining.

Upon graduation from the Naval Academy in June of 1943, Bohan was assigned as assistant Gunnery Officer to the USS Fitch, an Atlantic Fleet destroyer. Here he saw duty in the North Atlantic, Arctic, Central

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Recently, after a long illness, at last I was able to get up. I checked my home to find the most urgent job to be done in the hour I was allowed out of bed each day.

I noticed my white porcelain oven and quickly decided that was it.

The oven was warm, from heating breakfast rolls. I immediately sprayed it thoroughly with one of the new spray cleaners—remembering to spray once, then reverse the racks to upside down, and spray again.

While the spray was working, I moved my kitchen stool near the oven, filled my cleaning bucket with warm, soapy water and put it on top of the stool, complete with sponge.

I put my stove drip pans on the oven rack and sprayed again lightly.

I had a cup of coffee, then wiped the gunky mess off with paper toweling. I washed and rinsed the oven and racks and dried them with paper towels.

This may use a few paper towels, but we find them less expensive than a "Mother's time."

The oven looked like new. Mary

Dear Heloise:

When I go up on the sundeck in the summer, there is no water hose handy, so I take along a plastic squirt bottle of water to keep me cool while getting a tan!

Genny Johnson

Dear Heloise:

What in the name of common sense and comfort ever became of that lovely old custom of carrying a parasol on hot, sunny days?

Don't women realize what delight they might have walking under that blessed protection of a sunshade rather than melting under the merciless, sweltering sun?

Not to mention the added attraction of the pretty picture made by modern, gorgeous-hued umbrellas.

And often medical men tell us that some skin problems are caused by too much strong sunlight.

If you give us the go-ahead, I'm sure many timid women would adopt your opinion. What is your opinion?

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I take a rectangular plastic foam sponge and make a slit in one end, then insert the end of a yardstick into the slit, and it's easy to wash and clean hard-to-get-into-spaces (where I need a long handle).

Mrs. Bob T. Briggs

Dear Heloise:

To prevent small children from locking themselves in the bathroom, drape a towel over the top of the bathroom door.

Dear Heloise:

We don't like the crumbs when we get near the bottom of a box of dry cereal.

When there is about a fourth of a box of cereal left, I place a clean net produce bag over a bowl and pour the cereal on it. The pieces left on the net are just right for eating.

I hope you don't waste the crumbs that sift through—they're wonderful for topping casseroles, etc.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When going through my closet the other day, I found an old dress with big shoulder pads in it. I ripped a pad from the dress and now keep it on the end of my ironing board.

The pad is wonderful to tuck inside the shoulder of a dress or child's garment when ironing. I don't know how I ever got along without it.

SPEBSQSA Meets

CHICAGO (AP)—About 5,000 persons are attending the 28th annual convention of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America this week.

SEAN, German Schnauzer pet of Rose-Emma Mayone of Glasco and Miami, surveys photographer with practiced elegance at modeling session. A seasoned traveler, the handsome animal is making a name for himself in dog and art circles as a photogenic, well-mannered award winner.

Local Pet Wins Acclaim in Dog And Art Circles

A German Schnauzer with the unlikely name of Sean added more laurels to his credit recently.

For the third straight year the bewhiskered pet of Rose-Emma Mayone took best of show and best groomed honors in the annual Fourth of July show at Cantine Field in Saugerties. He was shown by Miss Mayone's young niece Amanda Mayone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mayone of Glasco.

Portraits of Sean and his mistress were featured in a recent one-man show by Ross Neher, youthful West Camp artist at the IBM Country Club in Poughkeepsie. A pastel of Sean alone was judged best in the exhibit. Other works included an oil of Rose-Emma and her dog and a caricature of Sean in his graduation outfit upon completion of obedience courses.

Leads Pampered Life

But be it the art or dog world where Sean earns plaudits, nothing can compare with the lavish and loving care he gets at home. The constant companion of Rose-Emma, he travels the circuit with her as she goes south in the winter and north in the summer. She is a waitress at Deanie's in Woodstock now and will return to Miami's Famous Restaurant in the late fall.

Perhaps the best dressed dog in the canine world, Sean sports a different collar every day as well as handknit sweaters which match those worn by Rose-Emma.

Fastidiously groomed and equally well-mannered, Sean has caught the camera's eye from Miami to New York. Not only has he been the subject of newspaper articles but he has served as a photographer's model and model for statuettes.

Has Regular Routine

His home life follows an orderly pattern, both here and in the south. While Rose-Emma works nights as a waitress, Sean remains at home in a playpen with his toys. In the morning while his mistress sleeps he is walked at 9 a. m. by a neighbor, returning to keep vigil at bedside until Rose-Emma starts her day at 11 a. m. From then until she goes to work, he is her constant companion whether it be trips to the hairdresser, dentist, beach or stores.

It is a shame more people can't lead a "dog's life" like this.

To Seek New Trial For Student Editor

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—A new trial will be sought for Annette Buchanan, University of Oregon student editor convicted of contempt of court for refusing to tell a grand jury the names of persons from whom she obtained material for a news story.

Her attorney, Arthur Johnson, said Thursday, a motion would be filed today or Monday as a prelude to an appeal to the Oregon Supreme Court.

She was convicted June 28 and fined $500. Miss Buchanan, 20, of Seattle, refused to tell a county grand jury the names of persons she interviewed for a story on the use of marijuana on the University of Oregon campus.

Money Tree

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—O. C. Glenn had to leave the house, so he left a $100 bill nailed to a tree for the man who was to deliver a truckload of mixed concrete.

The money was gone when the truck got there, Glenn told police. The driver said he saw a boy running away with a bill in his hand.

Wilson Reports:

Officials to Get Details of New Exemption Law

Ulster County Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson announced today that the State's Office for Local Government will soon be supplying all local city, town and village officials with technical information concerning the newly-enacted law to grant a 50 per cent exemption on assessments to persons over 65 who are living on a small, fixed income. The legislation, which was co-sponsored by Assemblyman Wilson, was recently signed into law by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, but the law cannot go into effect in any given area until the necessary action is taken by the local governing bodies.

Assemblyman Wilson has publicly urged all units of government within Ulster County to approve the new State law as a means of bringing some measure of tax relief to the County's older residents who are being forced to battle the increasing burdens of inflation on fixed and limited incomes. The Assemblyman said he has provided various local officials with the details of the new law, and that he has also asked the Office for Local Government to follow up this information with additional technical facts and copies of sample resolutions for use by the various town and village boards, as well as the Kingston Common Council. Wilson added he also has been assured by the Office for Local Government that the necessary application forms are now being designed, and will be sent to the local assessors in the near future.

The Ulster County Assemblyman said that when the law is adopted by a local municipality, any resident in that area who is 65 or older, and whose net income does not exceed $3,000 a year, will be able to apply for the fifty per cent exemption on the assessed valuation of their property. Assemblyman Wilson further said this exemption, when granted, could be applied to all local taxes, including county, town, and village, as well as school taxes if there were no children living in the home who were attending public school.

Hitchcock Has Shocker in Film

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—That puckish provoker of movie audiences, Alfred Hitchcock, is at it again. His new film opens with a scene of Julie Andrews snuggled in bed with Paul Newman.

How will this be greeted by the fans of "Mary Poppins"?

"Their eyes will be popping," the British-born director predicted.

During his 40 years in films, Hitchcock has tried to scare, shock and shatter movie goers, and he has managed to do so with amazing regularity. He has missed sometimes, as with two recent films, "The Birds" and "Marnie." But his new one, "Torn Curtain," is reportedly a return to the old Hitchcock.

"Let's say 'vintage Hitchcock,'" he corrected.

The director was finishing up his affairs in his Universal office before leaving for Boston, Atlanta, Toronto, London, Stockholm, Paris, Rome and Madrid on a publicity mission.

"Nowadays," he lamented, "you not only have to make pictures, you have to sell them."

He expressed not a shred of concern for parents who might be outraged by the bed scene involving Miss Andrews.

"I did it as a spoof on the bed scenes in all those kitchen-sink pictures that come out of England," he explained. "Those scenes have become such a cliché, they are always shot with the girl's naked shoulder over the man's naked chest, then with the man's naked shoulder just hiding a view of the girl's naked breast."

ILA Continues Hearing Calling For Tug Ouster

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Capt. John W. Degan Jr., who says his lodge of the Licensed Tugmen's & Pilot's Protective Association of America faces "harrassment and reprisals," has the attention today of International Longshoremen's Association (ILA-CIO) leaders to a demand for removal of the Tugmen's union president.

Degan, 37, a Great Lakes pilot from Lorain, Ohio, was accompanied by two police detectives Thursday as he met for two and a half hours with the Great Lakes District executive board of the ILA, with which the Tugmen's group is affiliated.

He asked the police protection during his stay here because he said he was fearful of personal attack.

The ILA officials said they would continue today, as part of the agenda of a regional meeting, the hearing on the proposed ouster of Patrick J. Cullinan Jr., the Tugmen's union president.

Luci Overwhelmed

WASHINGTON (AP)— "Never in a girl's wildest dreams could she hope to start off married life like this," says Luci Johnson, who has received a rain of presents from four bridal showers.

It took a White House truck to pick up the gifts from a kitchen shower given by bridesmaid Sharon Cham Chapman for the President's younger daughter, who will marry Patrick Nugent Aug. 6.

Still to come are a bridesmaid's luncheon, a bachelor dinner for Pat and a bridal dinner given by Pat's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Nugent.

Twin Girls at That

WINTHROP, Mass. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Swansburg Jr. of Winthrop, Mass., were sure that the baby they were expecting this week would be a boy.

They already had two sons. In fact, it had been 78 years since the last daughter was born to a Swansburg, and that one was the girl half of boy-girl twins. Mrs. Swansburg gave birth to twin girls on Wednesday.

Named District Engineer for Local Phone Co.

EDWARD A. GABEL

New York Telephone today announced the appointment of Edward A. Gabel as district engineer in Kingston.

He succeeds Eugene Rabaglia, who has been named to a position on the company's Upstate headquarters staff in Albany.

Gabel began his telephone career in 1946 in Kearney, N. J., as a central office equipment engineer for Western Electric, the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System.

Born in New York City, he has an electrical engineering degree from Manhattan College and also has studied at Columbia University. He served in the Navy in World War II and the Korean War. Before his new appointment he was an engineer with New York Telephone's plant department in Poughkeepsie. He is a commander in the Naval Reserve and a member of the Dutchess County Planning Board.

Gabel is married and has three children and lives at 11 Carmen Drive, Poughkeepsie. Rabaglia joined New York Telephone in 1957 and held various positions in Syracuse and Albany before he moved to Kingston last year. A native of Syracuse, he is a graduate of Syracuse University and has done post-graduate study at Cornell and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. He served in the Air Force during the Korean War.

Mr. and Mrs. Rabaglia have two children. They will be moving to the Albany area soon.

$1,772 Realized For Stang Fund In Kiwanis Sale

A financial report on the annual Rose Sale, an additional gift to the Frederick H. Stang Memorial Fund, and a talk concerning the stock market were on the agenda of the Kingston Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Donald MacIsaac, chairman of the 1966 Rose Sale, revealed to the membership that the sum of $1,772 had been realized for the Kiwanis Scholarship Fund. This profit was better than in previous years, according to a Kiwanis official.

The Fred Stang Memorial Fund was the recipient of a gift from the Kingston Rotary Club, presented to vice-president Harold E. Keator Jr. by Rotary president Frank D. Hoornbeek.

Following his presentation of the Rotary gift, Frank D. Hoornbeek spoke to the Kiwanians concerning the stock market. He spoke of an "82 year country stock investments, which had maturity period" relative to produced a picture of the various stocks offered on the market. Hoornbeek also mentioned some 200 various Mutual Funds which represented investments through the medium of a "managed portfolio over unsupervised funds," and further indicated that stock investments could bring a monthly income that would provide well for retirement years.

Optimism Evident on Viet But Still Officially Guarded

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)— Nobody has said yet the boys will be home from Viet Nam by Christmas—or even a year from Christmas, but optimism is in the air.

It is guarded, of course, and at the State Department officials privately are counseling caution.

But at no time since the United States jumped into the Vietnamese war has Washington seemed so confident. And the confidence starts at the top.

"Our diplomatic reports indicate that the opposing forces no longer really expect a military victory in South Viet Nam," a buoyant President Johnson told the nation Tuesday.

He was quick to add, "I am aware of the dangers of speculation," but it did not detract from what became the dominant theme this week. The tide has turned in favor of the United States.

Johnson has been optimistic before. For instance, he said last January in his State of the Union address: "The enemy is no longer close to victory. Time is no longer on his side."

But this time a chorus of top administration leaders are blending their voices with the President's. And activity in the diplomatic arena appears to give solid substance to their song of cheer.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who has been hinting at a new peace bid for some weeks, will fly to Moscow toward the end of next week.

In Hong Kong, senior American officials were reported predicting another diplomatic approach to persuade Hanoi to negotiate.

In Washington, Undersecretary of State George Ball told a news conference Wednesday foreign diplomats in North Viet Nam had reported deteriorating Communist morale.

And in Los Angeles to address the annual governors' conference, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey spoke Wednesday of "flickering bits of evidence" that indicate North Viet Nam's leaders are seeking "some way out" of the war.

The current round of optimism was touched off last Saturday in Saigon when Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander in Viet Nam, said "yes" when asked if "we have now begun to win."

Monday, in a July 4th speech at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, Ball said the United States will continue its fight

"and we shall prevail." Johnson quickened the tempo at his news conference at the LBJ Ranch in Texas the next day.

On Wednesday, Secretary of State Dean Rusk told Japanese Shindo he is convinced N-

Foreign Minister Etsusaburo Shima he is convinced North Vietnamese forces can be defeated and that the process is under way.

Meanwhile, Ball was telling a news conference at the State Department about "a greater war weariness among the people" of North Viet Nam.

Like the President, Humphrey, Rusk and Ball mixed in full measures of caution.

Humphrey said the "flickering bits of evidence" were "not solid or concrete." Rusk said, "we have seen no evidence that the other side wants peace." And Ball said, "I don't want to create an overly optimistic picture."

And yet the optimism is there, on the record, for all to see. James Marlow, who usually writes this column, is ill.

HARSHER VIET WAR

A few months ago, the great imponderable concerning Viet Nam was how far the United States could go in carrying the war onto the soil of North Viet Nam without bringing Red China, and possibly Soviet Russia, into the conflict.

Today, since the bombing of the oil and gasoline storage depots at Hanoi and Haiphong and on a radar control center near the capital the following day, it is apparent that we can do just about anything we feel is necessary to destroy North Viet Nam's war-making potential without running those major risks.

The question now would seem to be, not how much CAN we do to defeat the enemy, but how much more MUST we do?

According to early assessments by the Air Force, the raids of June 29 wiped out half of North Viet Nam's fuel storage capacity, as well as seriously damaging its port facilities for unloading oil tankers.

Even if exaggerated, and these things often are, the blow will undoubtedly place a severe strain on Hanoi's ability to move troops to the south by motor vehicle. The strike was dictated by military necessity and in most opinion was long overdue.

Military necessity, however, is not the sole governing factor in conflicts between nations.

Battlefield strategy dictated that our armies ignore Berlin in the closing days of World War II in Europe and allow the Russians to take it. Later events proved this to be one of the gravest political mistakes of that war.

We should also remind ourselves that the North Vietnamese army is not the kind of army that depends upon gasoline for its life's blood. It is impelled by something else, an obstinate determination, which our bombs so far seem to have been unable to defeat. The oil strike, while telling, is far from being the knockout punch impatient Americans would like to think it is.

Each stage of escalation has led inexorably to a newer and higher stage. Only a few steps remain before we reach the final one—a formal declaration of war on North Viet Nam and all that implies. It now seems clear that the President is prepared to take those steps if no dramatic results emerge from the present level of fighting within the coming months.

It is not too soon for Americans to begin asking themselves if they are prepared for that eventuality as well.

NUDGE TOWARD PEACE

Demand an outright moratorium on underground nuclear tests, enforced by a predetermined number of on-site inspections, and you have eight years of impasse between the United States and the Soviet Union.

But change "moratorium" to "experimental suspension for a limited trial period," and change "inspection" to "verification by invitation," and for the first time you have real hope for an international accord that will close the dangerous gaps left by the 1963 treaty banning atmospheric nuclear explosions.

This is being hailed as the achievement of the recent four-day meeting of the International Assembly on Nuclear Weapons held in Scarborough, Ontario. Although the conference was sponsored by several nongovernmental agencies, and its participants—some 60 disarmament officials and specialists from 25 countries—attended in a private capacity the recommendation has the unofficial backing of both the U.S. and Soviet governments.

Solving the problem of disarmament is far more than merely an exercise in semantics, of course. Technological improvement in the ability to detect and identify seismic disturbances halfway around the world is probably the most important factor in this country's willingness to relax its demands for inspections on Soviet soil. As for the Russians, the right to retain a sort of veto over inspections undoubtedly figured largely in their amiable attitude at the conference.

THE PURGE-HAPPY REPUBLICANS

The Republicans have been severely criticized for putting on a ho-hum performance at the recent four-day National Committee meeting of the party leaders in Washington, D.C. There was only one open session, a luncheon, and, to judge by the press briefings permitted by the cautious National Chairman, Ray Bliss, the only subject that really seemed to be agitating the participants was the so-called "Rat Fink" controversy in the Young Republican organization of New Jersey.

Alan Otten, the political pundit of the Wall Street Journal, was appalled that this "intramural" matter should be bothering Republicans to the apparent exclusion of the Vietnamese war, the inflation, the state of the hospitals on the eve of the debut of Medicare, and the LBJ "credibility gap." But what is even more appalling to me is that the "Rat Fink" issue is itself a phony. It comes out of Idaho, in the form of a charge made by a young lady, Mrs. Hope Kading, who was disappointed in her effort to become a co-chairman of the Young Republicans.

Mrs. Kading alleged that the conservative "Rat Finks" of New Jersey—a young Republican group which accepted the name out of bravado when they were stuck with it—were guilty of circulating and singing racist song parodies. Senator Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, scolding party dirt in the issue, recently wrote a letter to Tom R. Van Sickle, chairman of the Young Republican National Federation, saying that "specifically you have refused to take any action against Richard F. Plechner, an admitted leader of the Rat Finks, who holds the national office of YR regional vice chairman for Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, and New York."

Tom Van Sickle quite reasonably holds that you can't condemn a man without a trial, and poor Plechner, who is part Jewish and wholly anti-Nazi (his father was killed fighting the Nazis in Algeria in World War II), swears to high heaven that he doesn't know who wrote the "sick humor" racist songs which have rightly offended Hugh Scott. Moreover, he doesn't even know who circulated them or sang them. He considers himself the victim of a plot to purge the Young Republicans of anyone who has conservative leanings. And William Rusher, the publisher of William Buckley's National Review, who is thick in the councils of the Young Republican conservatives, will charge in a forthcoming issue of his magazine that the alleged purge plot is directed not only at the YR but at the Republican Women's Federation, which also persists in electing a conservative chairman.

This columnist is leery when it comes to seeing political "plots." A "plot" is opposition that you don't happen to like. It is not the plot angle of this business about the Rat Finks that bothers me, it is the stupidity of convicting a man in public before he is tried. Unlike the Democrats, who blandly accept the support of anybody who is for their candidates on Election Day, the Republicans in my part of the country, which happens to be the East, seem to be purge-happy. And by their actions and talk, they have succeeded in convincing the majority of political reporters, in the East at least, that it is a catastrophe when a conservative Steven B. Derouinian, for example, wins a primary on the North shore of Long Island. It is also to be judged to be quite terrible that conservative Ronald Reagan has walked off with the Republican nomination for Governor of California, and that Montana the conservative Governor Jim Babcock has a good chance of beating the incumbent Democratic Senator Lee Metcalf, and that in Wyoming still another conservative, Governor Cliff Hansen, is a candidate for the Senatorial seat being vacated by Milward Simpson.

What the Republican East seeks to do, in short, is to purge the Republican West. If the purge works, we shall have a couple of rump parties. And the Democrats, accepting votes from the Americans for Democratic Action and Gus Hall's Communists along with the votes of Southern conservatives, may even survive the Vietnamese troubles, the inflation, and the credibility gap. Gnawing Stomach Pains Often Tip Off Peptic Ulcers

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Within an hour or two after I eat I get gnawing hunger pains. Eating stops them. Is this a sign of an ulcer?

A—Very likely. Typically the ulcer pain can be localized with the tip of one finger just above the navel and doesn't come on until 2 to 3 hours after a full meal. Because there are other possible causes for your pain, you should have an examination of your gastric acidity and stomach X rays.

Q—Our 17-year-old daughter has had a peptic ulcer for about a year. What foods would irritate it? Can ulcer patients have foods that contain fat? Is there a complete cure for this disease?

A—Your daughter should avoid bran, whole wheat bread, fried foods and rough fibrous vegetables and fruits, especially raw. Fat in the form of butter, cream and margarine is easily digested and should be allowed. With proper treatment most ulcers heal in about 3 weeks but the recurrence rate is high unless you can find and remove the underlying cause, which is often nervous tension.

Q—For 10 months I have had a noise like escaping steam in my left ear. I was told that Lipoflavonoid, if taken for 6 to 12 months, would help. What do you think?

A—Head noises described as hissing, ringing or roaring are a common accompaniment of advancing years. They are caused by hardening of the arteries in the inner ear and they vary in intensity. Lipoflavonoid is a combination of vitamins that helps some but not all victims of this annoying condition.

Q—I was told that I have tinnitus. Is this serious? Is there any cure for it?

A—Tinnitus is the technical name for ringing in the ears. It is not serious. When it is caused by the irreversible changes that occur with age there is no cure but your doctor may be able to give you symptomatic relief. If, on the other hand, it is caused by an allergy, wax pressing on your ear drum, excessive smoking, aspirin, quinine or streptomycin, removing the cause should clear it up.

Q—My 15-year-old daughter dropped dead on the street about a year ago. The cause of death was cardiac granuloma. She was apparently in the best of health at the time. How can this happen? If she had had symptoms and the diagnosis had been made earlier, could she have been cured? This tragic disease is very rare and is rarely discovered before death. Even with earlier discovery I doubt that anything could have been done for your daughter. The cause of these non-cancerous tumors of the heart is unknown.

could "challenge" another which it suspected of carrying out a clandestine underground nuclear test. The latter could then "invite" foreign observers to come and prove it.

This may seem like a large loophole. But no nation is likely to issue indiscriminate challenges, especially with advanced monitoring techniques at its disposal, and any government that refused to answer a challenge with an invitation would cast a grave burden of suspicion upon itself.

Peace, like war, is not a sudden event. Both are a product of a series of little steps. What happened in Canada was a heartening step toward the goal all mankind earnestly desires.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Red China's rulers may have paid a greater price than they imagined for their nuclear explosions.

That is, there may be a partial tie-in between Communist China's atom bomb development and the political dissension in that country.

The production of these atomic blasts was so important to Mao Tse-tung in his psychological-propaganda war for control of Asia that he was forced to turn to and lean heavily on scientists who had been trained in the United States, Britain and other free nations of the West.

His top nuclear scientists were so trained.

IN THE EARLIER PERIOD of the regime, these Western-schooled Chinese scientists, with their emphasis on facts and their skepticism concerning propaganda, had been mistrusted.

Being mistrusted, they had been allowed to work but had been kept, so far as possible, from positions of influence and authority.

But Mao had to have the bomb. He was not getting help from the Russians. His own supply of home-grown and educated scientists did not have the maturity for imaginative nuclear development.

So the Red Chinese turned more to Western science. They began teaching their young scientists English instead of Russian. They began to study American scientific literature. Scientists from northern European countries were invited to lecture. Students began going to selected Western countries.

So the Red Chinese turned more to Western science. They began teaching their young scientists English instead of Russian. They began to study American scientific literature. Scientists from northern European countries were invited to lecture. Students began going to selected Western countries.

AS THE REGIME SOUGHT to build the bomb and rockets and to train a new generation of scientists, it finally had to rely upon the outstanding Western-trained scientists — men from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, California Institute of Technology, Harvard, Cambridge, the University of California, Liverpool University, Edinburgh, Tokyo Imperial University, Berlin, Toronto University.

Their teaching and research methods were Western-oriented. Chinese officials complained they had a pro-West and pro-American mentality which intensive political indoctrination was unable to destroy.

With Western-trained scientists doing the instructing it was impossible to prevent the young Chinese science students from getting Western thoughts.

The Western influence was already so strong by 1958 that Peking launched a national campaign in the colleges and universities against the bourgeois viewpoint.

The atomic work was done under the Western influence. The successful nuclear explosion's were exploited to the full by the Peking government. It was impossible to completely discredit the men who made them possible.

THE NEW KNOWLEDGE of the power of science and of nuclear weapons has created among some knowledgeable Chinese a deeper understanding of the power of Western industry, arms and production methods.

This is creating dissatisfaction with Mao's insistence that party doctrine is fact in the fields of science, industry, technology, government and military matters.

These men see Red China slipping further behind the West. They see the country ruled by men whose technical thinking and knowledge is low and whose understanding of the West is slight and fantastically twisted. Their ideas are rubbing off on others.

This is the season of the Great Dissent. The people are politically conscious, but also politically naive. They are exercising their right to disagree, not only with their government, but with each other. This has a healthy surface flush, but the onlooker suspects a fever of confusion.

The American Medical Association fought Medicare fiercely and futilely. Now it wants to join Medicare and dictate how it shall be administered. The most highly paid profession in the world insists that it send its bill to the elderly patient and asks him to fight for the money from Uncle Sam.

This, in spite of the A.M.A.'s trustee recommendation that 300,000 American doctors permit the government to set up proper procedures. The implication is that the doctor plans to gouge the old, and demands that the patient justify the bill, and, if he can't collect under Medicare, pay the difference.

The Civil Rights movement has become an army of generals, with few buck privates. If I were a Negro, do I follow the non-violence of Dr. Martin Luther King; the "Black Power" of Floyd McKissick or Muslim Elijah; the tip-toe policy of the N.A.A.C.P.; or the brutal grab-and-hate dictum of Adam Clayton Powell?

The division of opinion among Negroes and whites is so deep that protagonists can no longer define the word freedom. Negroes in Mississippi are told to take over the state. This is to forget freedom; the object is precisely what the whites feared, and we are now faced with a Negro swing toward segregation-in-reverse.

The dissent is deeper than this. In New York, Robert Kennedy, Democrat, fights the Democratic Party and defeats it. In Russia, by Jan. 1st, one-third of industry will be capitalist, with a profit motive. And yet the leaders preach Communism as though they practiced their preachments.

DeGaulle barely wins re-election in a runoff, but he fancies his weak country as a mediator between East and West. He surrendered Vietnam and Algeria, and the tall question mark imagines that this makes him a victor. Another of his victories was that he wrecked the European Common Market.

The will of the minority is, in many cases, being imposed on the majority. In New York, a pretty mayor flounders in minority fights between races and crafts. The nurses strike. So do the cab drivers and an unborn newspaper. Doctors quit. Transportation dies.

The city is enveloped in sky soot. Population declines, and the first ones out of town are the mayor's political chums. Craftsmen who earn $4.50 an hour want $5, but policemen, the new

Feels Solution to National WorkStoppageLongOverdue

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Congress is away on vacation, but the nation is face to face with a problem that should have been solved long ago—how to prevent strikes that inflict widespread damage.

The threat of a nationwide strike on major airlines has been before the country for some time. Other work stoppages involving losses of millions of dollars to innocent bystanders have occurred, but Congress, which has been under the influence of labor-union contributions to political campaigns, has refused to legislate a formula to prevent strikes that adversely affect the public interest.

Five big airlines are involved in the current crisis, and they handle two thirds of the air-passenger business of the country. While the five airlines employ only 94,000 workers, they represent 64 per cent of all airline employment, and the five companies handle more than 60 per cent of the country's airline traffic as measured in revenue passenger miles. These lines serve 231 cities in the United States and foreign countries, and the United States mails are, of course, delayed when planes stop moving over such large areas.

Provisions Made Under the Railway Labor Act, which embraces airlines, provision has been made for emergency Boards and cooling-off periods. But all these have been exhausted in the present dispute. A fact-finding board has submitted its recommendations, which the airlines are ready to accept as a basis for negotiation. The labor union, however, has turned them down as inadequate.

Existing statutes do not provide a solution. Nobody likes the idea of compulsory arbitration but, when the public interest is jeopardized, something has to be done in that direction. The late President Kennedy, for example, got from Congress a compulsory-arbitration law bringing about a "featherbedding" dispute on the railroads. Terms of the arbitration board's award, under the law, remained in effect for two years. A major strike was prevented, but now that the two years have elapsed, a big strike is again threatened. The American people, therefore, face another ordeal on the railroads similar to that which is about to tie up the airlines. Maritime strikes also have done considerable damage and have brought immeasurable inconvenience and losses to the public.

The only answer appears to be permanent arbitration.

particularly in the transportation and shipping fields. Employers do not like the idea, but public opinion is veering in that direction, primarily because these industries are already regulated in large part by the government.

Members of Congress familiar with labor developments have known for a long time that the airlines were confronted with a crisis, but the committees have stood aloof from the problem. The President is not entirely blameless for lack of action in this case, for he has not hesitated to recommend legislation in the past when other serious matters affecting the public interest were involved.

Politics Plays Part Unfortunately, politics has much to do with the excess of restraint which has been practiced here in connection with labor problems. The union argues not only to put huge sums of money into political campaigns but set up organizations to operate intensively in every Congressional district. In every state they give their support to those members of Congress who have stood by them on legislative matters.

The United States has experienced several painful strikes in recent months, and the facts have been fully presented from time to time. The Legislators here, however, continue to show a strange indifference to the whole question of changing the existing statutes on labor-management relations.

It remains to be seen how large a part the strike issue will play in the voting throughout the country in the November elections. While there are many Republicans who side with labor, the Democrats have by far the larger number who have rendered support to the cause of the unions. Strikes are by no means popular. If the airlines and other businesses lose millions through a nationwide tie-up that also affects the travel of citizens, this certainly can have a serious impact in many Congressional districts where the people will be inclined to vote against the party in power. In Vietnam, soldiers who risk their lives are discouraged to find that the dissenters at home are no longer behind them. We have lost fewer young men in that war than we lost in continental U.S. in car accidents but the wave of anti-Americanism is at its crest in America.

No one likes the war but if the Vietnamese lose their chance at independence, we may someday lose ours. The once-tough neighborhood kid has been replaced by a boy who wants to look and dress like a girl. He yawns through college, fights the draft law, and insists on his right to tell the President of the United States when to pull out.

It is the age of opposition for opposition's sake. It waits for someone to take a stand on any subject, and then opposes it. The Congress lounges in lassitude, waiting for the White House to say something—anything—before springing into action on an opposite course.

The intellectually muscle-bound Supreme Court mistakes the word, equality to read "license." The best profession for an ambitious kid is to be a criminal, because they now get the most protection from the law. If I were a crook, I would hurry to the nearest police station, because that's the only way to freedom.

Labor used to appeal to management for a fair deal. Now management begs labor for a voice in its own business. The season of the Great Dissent is now in the American home. The American parent who has lost the respect of his children now whimpers: "What did I do wrong?"

Survey Shows Legislator's Pay in States Will Go Up

By RUSSELL LANE
CHICAGO (AP) — The pay scale for state legislators rated from $100 to $100,000 a year and it's going to go up, an Associated Press survey shows.

New York's legislators, by voting this week to raise their expense allowances from $1,000 to $3,000, reached the compensation level of $13,000-$500 more than in Michigan, where the salary was $10,000 and expenses $2,500.

Will Keep Place
The House and Senate members in Albany, it is expected will keep their place at the top of the pay scale in 1967 with a $5,000 base pay boost, to $15,000, and $1,000 expenses.

But California's legislators, who made $6,000 and fringe pay this year, hope to jump to a $16,000 annual salary if voters approve a constitutional change allowing the legislators to set their own pay.

Michigan's Legislature tried for $17,500 next year, including $2,500 in expense allowance, but settled for $12,500 and $2,500. Other high-population states generally pay legislators more than those less densely inhabited. And the states of middle legislator income expect to pay more next year.

These offer a contrast with New Hampshire, where a legislator gets $200 every two years, unless he's presiding officer of his house. Then, he gets $250. The lawmaker also gets a daily round-trip mileage whether he commutes to Concord or not.

Ceiling Is $240
In Wyoming, the base pay ceiling on a yearly basis is $240. This is figured on the basis of $12 a day during a session, with a maximum of 40 days each two years. However, a Wyoming lawmaker can claim $20-a-day expenses during the session, a rate that was raised from $12 in 1963.

Utah provides $500 a year plus $5 a day expenses while its biennial Legislature is in session. In North Dakota, legislators get $5 a day while in session, but they also get a $1,200 expense allowance for the session. Comparing the legislators' jobs would be like comparing apples and oranges. In New York there were six months of sessions this year, while in many smaller states legislators were entirely free to work their farms or run their shops or offices.

Close to Record
Michigan's Legislature is close to a record-length session. A feature of California's $16,000 pay proposal is its link with a strict conflict-of-interest law which would force many legislators to curtail such private business interests as law practice, insurance sales or connection with firms competing for state contracts.

Louisiana, a fast-developing state, makes this provision for legislators: $250 a month between sessions and $50 a day during sessions, which is about $3,300 a year. However, some members get $35 to $50 a day for being on interim committees, and reap $10,000 to $15,000 annually.

Other compensation allotments in some states include such items as $50 a session for stationery, as in Illinois where the annual legislative pay moves up from $7,500 this year to $9,000 in 1967. Many states also pay travel expense for trips between home and the state capital at rates of 7 to 15 cents a mile.

AFL Moguls Feel Merger Is Good

By BERNIE KENNEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP)—While certain individuals may remain unhappy over the concessions made to the National League, American Football League owners as a group feel the recently announced merger is good for pro football.

"Sure, there were a few owners who were unhappy with the idea of giving money to certain NFL clubs as part of the merger agreement," Boston Patriots' owner Bill Sullivan said.

"But the only thing we've all got to realize is that when you are part of a league, you have to go along with what the league decides. You can't go off by yourself. Who would you play?" he continued.

Sullivan, one of three AFL owners who worked on the merger plans with the NFL committee, said the final vote for the merger was 3-0.

"The persons who felt hurt most were those who were packing their own places and were making money despite close competition with another team. I can't blame them for squawking about giving money away. None of us feel happy when we have to do it," he concluded.

Commissioner Al Davis, who said when the meetings started he had made up his mind about whether to remain in his present position but would wait for 10 days to two weeks before making an announcement, did not allow himself to be trapped into making a premature statement.

Davis said it was his belief that everyone was happy with the idea of the merger.

"Once the league makes a decision, nothing should take away the glamour," Davis said.

I have the Kingston Weekly Freeman of Jan. 2, 1902. I see one item telling about John McEntee being the proprietor of the Rondout Iron Works. They made ice house elevators, steel beams and girdles, and many of the Broadway buildings have the Rondout Iron Works to hold up the show-windows. One item from the Jan. 16, 1902 Freeman tells about Thomas Cornell and his sister who were on their way from Rondout to Eddyville. It seems they ran into a horse and wagon. The forward wheel was broken and the horse ran away. No one was hurt.

Thursday, Feb. 6, 1902 Freeman tells about the old flag of the One Hundred and Fifty-sixth Regiment had been placed in the Memorial House at New Paltz. The old army bugle of that regiment, used by Albert Emenecker, the bugler, which was used in drilling the regiment at Kingston and in battle while the regiment was at the front was also placed there.

Another interesting item of Feb. 6, 1902 tells about Mrs. C. Ripp who discontinued her little candy store at Sleightsburgh Ferry Slip. There was a neat little candy store there later. I think, and folks who were waiting for the Skilypat would go in there to keep warm. She had curtains, flowers, in her cozy little store. She was very polite even to those who did not buy, although she had many penny candy for anyone's choice. One also could get the news of the day, no doubt.

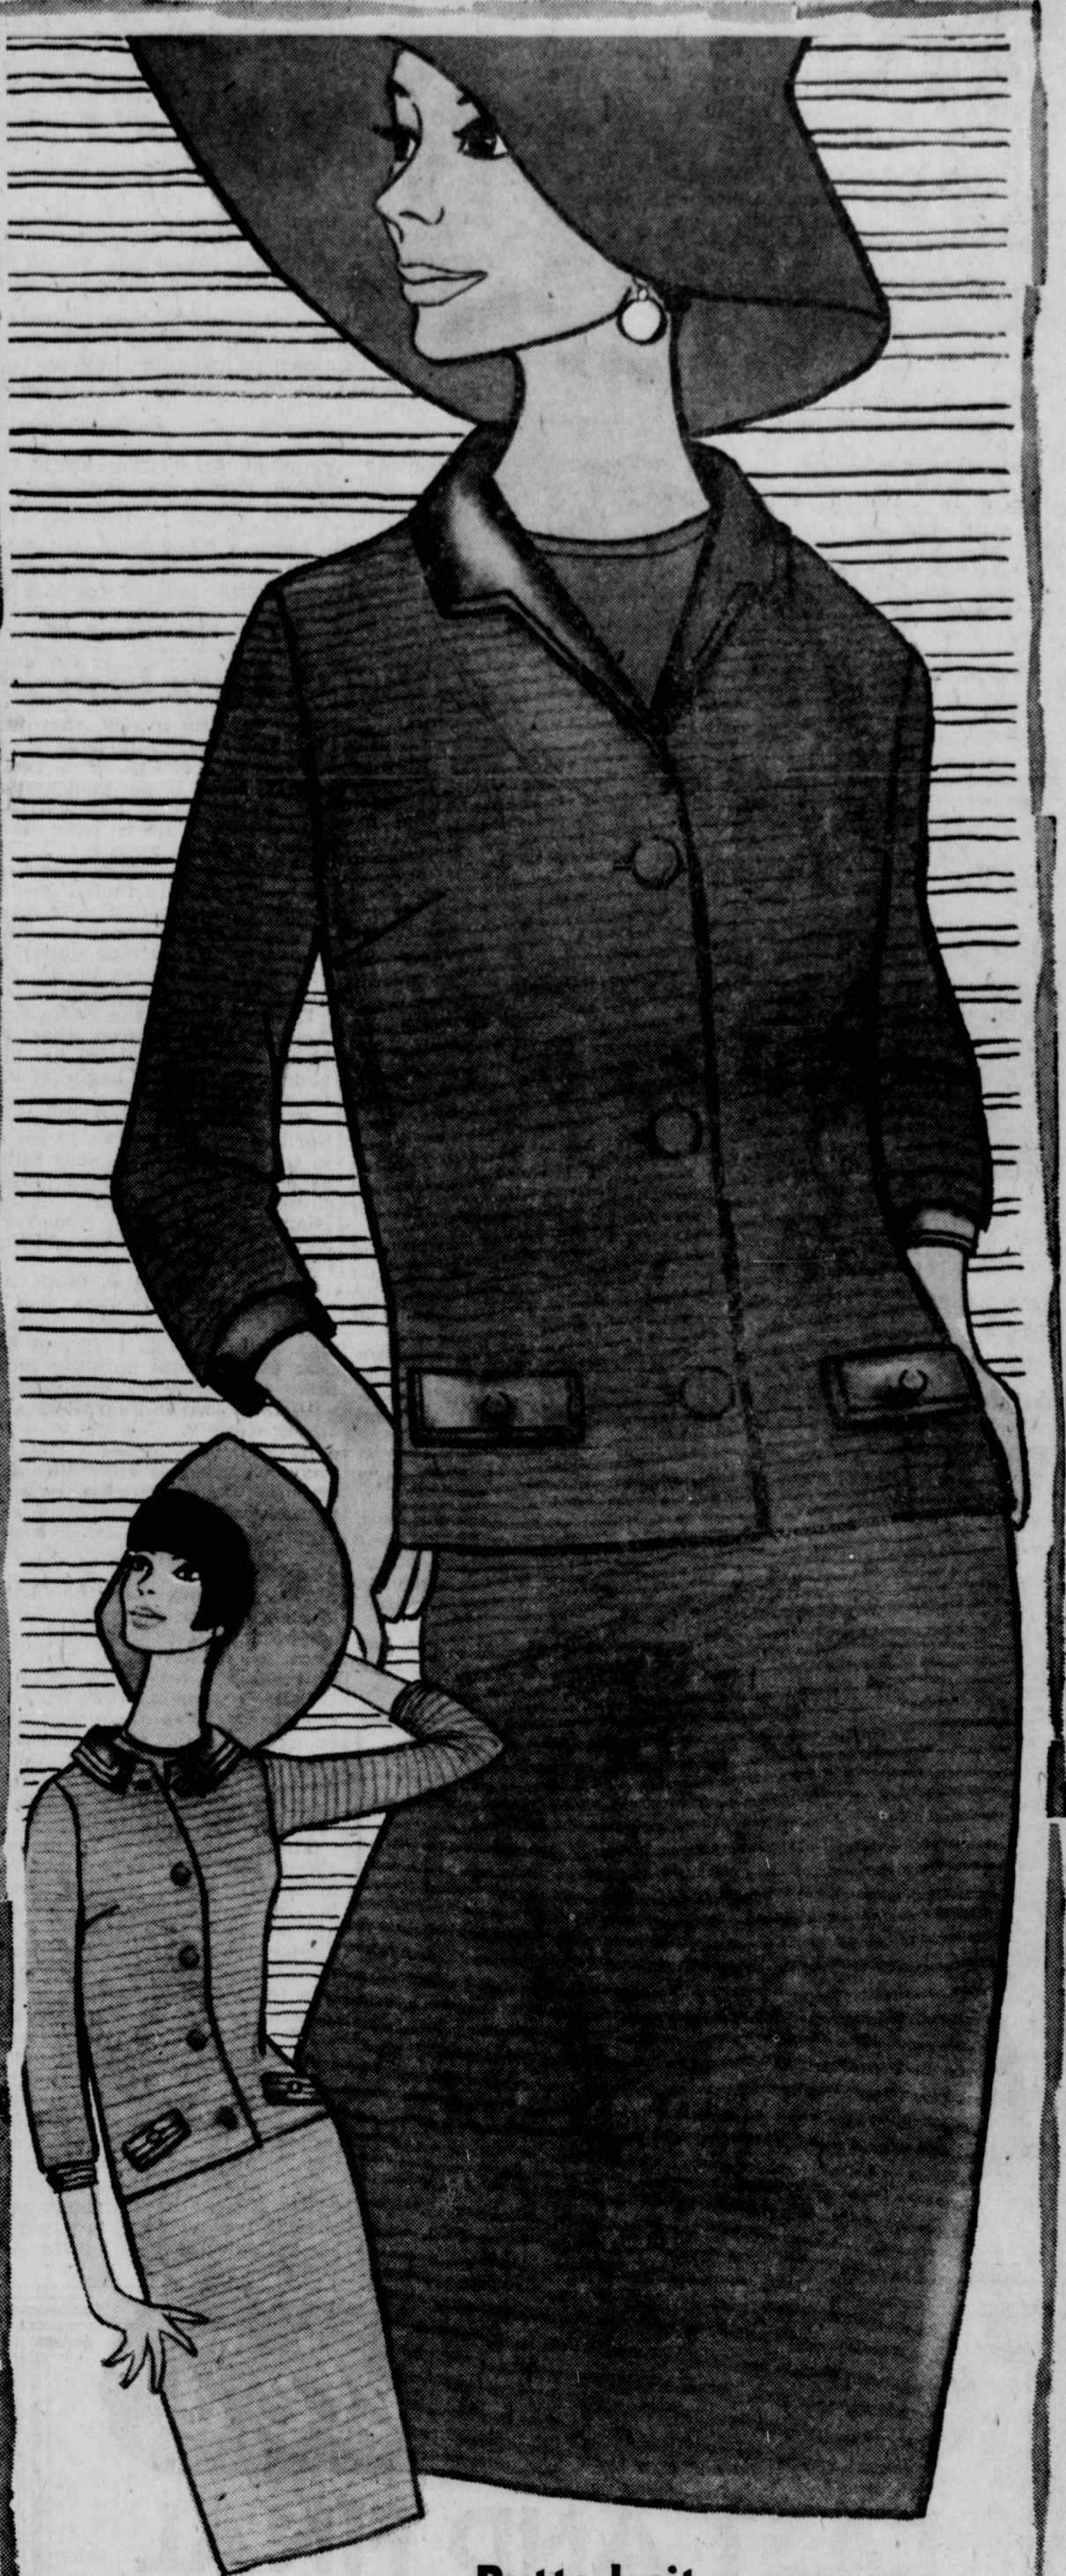

The Peckham Manufacturing Co. were having their election. They made the under-carriage for the trolley-cars right here in Kingston. I have a book which shows many of the trolley cars all over the country which used their products.

I look through these old books of Kingston and Ulster County and I'm surprised at the seldom mentioned crime or vandalism. After all they were lively folks in those days who worked hard and played hard. They fought the weather and grew much of their produce and canned it for the weather and grew much of their heating problem by hand. Of course the automobile did not come in the picture yet nor other fast travel. There were a great number of church affairs in each little community, which brought folks together. In this 1902 Kingston paper they write about trolley-cars to run to Kingston Point to accommodate those living in that section. They write about Professor George H. Muller and his some 18 musicians to be at the Kingston Point Park for the summer. They also planned to have some of the foremost soloists in the country. Kingston Point Park was known up and down the Hudson.

I see according to these old papers they used to have races on the Hudson and horse trotting races in Kingston. That was back in the early 1900's. I see in the last year or so the light motorcycle has become very popular, and I was wondering what happened to the Kingston police motorcycles. They had good heavy machines, no doubt they will come out again sometime. With all the land not used near Kingston, I am surprised that some good level section is not taken for motorcycle exhibitions, races, and get-togethers. That way they could all gather at the meet, and be out of the city traffic, and be able to exhibit or ride and perhaps even sightseers could enjoy their performances. Years ago the motorcycles seemed such heavy big machines, but now there are many light ones, and when run properly are a good mode of transportation, and no doubt the motorcycle is here to stay.

Dear Abby . . .

Think First Speak Later

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please please print this in your column. It may save my marriage. I can't mention any names as I don't want to ruin my husband's good name, but he has been seeing another woman.

I hope I can reach that woman's heart and ask her to PLEASE stop seeing my husband as I love him very much.

It just about kills me to know that someone else has taken my place with him. I have always been true to my husband and have been a good wife and mother. I would do anything for him, Abby. We have four children who love him, too. I am in hopes that the woman believes in God and will stop seeing my husband.

PRAYING: Your husband's conscience won't take orders from the "other" woman's heart. Try to reach your husband's sense of decency, morality, responsibility, and honor. He is not being captive, you know.

Don't nag, beg, or drive him out of your home with threats or hysterics. Make every effort to reason calmly with him until he comes to his senses. And keep praying.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old girl who has read your column for years but I've never seen a problem like mine. I know I am too forward with the boys, but I can't help making a fool of myself.

I am always bumping into them accidentally, on purpose, being loud, and making silly remarks that aren't ladylike. I flirt and try to be real cute, but am always saying the wrong thing at the wrong time. Afterwards I see what I did wrong and I feel just awful. I don't want to be known as a flirt and boy-chaser, Abby. I sure need your help. How can I overcome this?

BOY CHASER

DEAR BOY CHASER: You are intelligent to realize what your problem is and honest to admit it. Now in order to overcome your forwardness, bear this in mind: When you are in the company of boys, THINK before you speak. Don't talk because you HAVE TO SAY SOMETHING, talk because you HAVE SOMETHING TO SAY. If you sit as a lady, walk as a lady, and talk as a lady you will soon be considered one.

DEAR ABBY: My husband kept nagging me to let HIM do the marketing because he thought I spent too much for what I got. Well, I let him do the shopping one day, and he came home with the biggest eggs I had ever seen. I asked him where he got them, and he said from a farmer out near where he worked. He asked me to boil two for his lunch the next day. I did, and when he came home from work he said, "I never tasted anything so terrible as those eggs in all my life."

"They were DUCK EGGS. I was biting into everything I could get my hands on all day long trying to get that awful taste out of my mouth."

So, Abby, please tell women who have husbands who think they can do their wives' jobs as well as their own to just tune the poor boob out. From now on, my husband does his job and I do mine.

Return to Homes After Spray Scare

ARGYLE, Minn. (AP) — About 100 persons returned to their homes in this northwestern Minnesota community Thursday night after authorities said the danger caused by an accidental spraying of the village with a poisonous chemical had eased.

Between 300 and 350 residents fled their homes late Wednesday night when it was learned that parathion — potentially a lethal poison — had been used in an aerial spraying operation instead of a milder insecticide.

An airplane made three passes over the town on a mosquito-spraying flight before the mixup in chemicals was discovered, authorities said.

No ill effects from the chemical were reported, other than a few cases of nausea. An emergency supply of atropine — an antidote for parathion — was flown in Thursday.

Health officials also discovered Thursday that the concentration of parathion was less than first feared.

The Weather Bureau forecast a slight chance of rain today. Chances of rain were greater for tonight and Saturday morning.

"A good rain would wash it all out," said Dr. C. H. Holstrom, Marshall County health officer.

Volunteer firemen manned hoses Thursday to wash the poisonous chemical from streets and vegetation, and homeowners scrubbed their property.

Most businesses in this community of 800 were closed Thursday.

Crime Won't Pay

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A young married man who tried to beat the draft the hard way — by committing a crime — may wind up in the armed forces anyway.

"I don't know whether I should hit you with the maximum penalty or whether I should take it easy so you'll be drafted as soon as possible," Municipal Court Judge Charles Z. Smith told Clifford Jones, 19, Thursday.

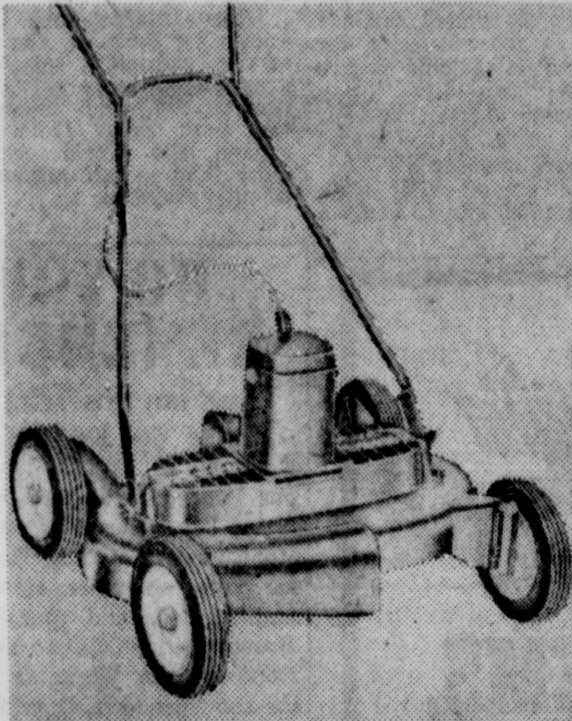

Jones pleaded guilty to stealing a car radio. He left a work badge bearing his name in the car "so I'd be caught," he said.

Tells About Birth Of Farm Loan Act

Fifty years ago this month a new implement was added to the farmers' collection of "tools" for use on the nation's farms.

It was money. Money in the form of long-term, low-interest real estate loans.

What made it available was the signing of the Farm Loan Act July 17, 1916, by President Woodrow Wilson. His signing followed studies by two presidents before him — Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft, both of whom, like Wilson, concluded that if anything specific was wrong with life down on the American farm, it was the lack of capital for growth.

The Farm Loan Act created the farmer-owned Federal Land Bank system, an organization of 12 district banks through which farmers and ranchers could (and still can) borrow money on terms comparable with those available to the businessman in the city.

C. Kenneth Taber, assistant manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Middletown-Kingston office says the Farm loan Act marked the beginning of the end of some 200 years of struggling on "two fronts" by a lot of farmers.

"On the one hand," he muses, they were fighting to make their land productive. On the other, they were hard put to find the money to hold onto the land they had.

"Lenders regarded them as poor business risks, which, to a degree, they were. Why? Because lacking money, they were too often poor producers.

"Interest rates, as a result, ranged from 10 per cent annually to 10 per cent monthly. And terms of the loans were under five years as a rule.

"Who was to blame? Perhaps no one, really. In fact, President Roosevelt's Country Life Commission said things were going wrong for the farmer simply because he had access to "no adequate farm credit system."

The signing of the Farm Loan Act in 1916 insured that the U. S. farmer situation, too long gone wrong, would begin, at last, to go right.

The Federal Land Bank of Springfield, one of the 12 set up in the United States, was established in 1917. It serves Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, New York, New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont.

The Federal Land Bank Association of Middletown, one of 24 in the Springfield District, was established in 1917 and has real estate loans totaling more than $11,000,000 outstanding with over two million dollars in Ulster County.

Each borrower from the association becomes a member and remains one until his loan is paid. At that time he must sell his stock, representing five per cent of his loan, back to the association.

"The history of the Land Banks," Taber says, "is almost a history of the progress of agriculture in the U. S. And this progress has been tremendous."

Taber comments that whereas the farmer was producing only enough food for about five persons, today he produces for over 33. And this in spite of the fact that today he's operating with fewer helpers and on less land.

There are, for a fact, only about half the people involved in farming today as there were in the early 1900's. And there are infinitely fewer farms.

Observes Taber: "The Land Banks have adapted their operation to meet the changing needs of farmers over the last 50 years."

"We are owned by farmers and operated for their benefit. Service is our primary motive and the Land Banks, nationally, have loaned more than $12 billion in the half century since the Farm Loan Act was signed.

The ancient Egyptians greased chariot axles with petroleum they found seeping from the ground.

Marius Petipa (1822-1910), French dancer and choreographer, created more than 50 full ballets.

Bride Gets Prison Term

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Emily Bogaslawski, 37, of Rochester faces one and a half to 10 years at Westfield Farms for Women for the killing of her husband, three months after they were married.

The woman was given the sentence Thursday in Monroe County Court. She had earlier pleaded guilty to second-degree manslaughter.

Her husband, Francis, 45, died after he was stabbed in the stomach during an argument March 10 in their home.

Women Doctors Will Meet at Parley Saturday

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — More than 500 women physicians will assemble here Saturday for the start of the 10th congress of the Medical Women's International Association.

The delegates, who represent more than 30 countries, will meet from July 10 to 15. They last met in Oslo, Norway, in 1964.

After registration the women will tour the Eastman House and attend a reception given by Neaumont Newhall, director of the Eastman Museum. Throughout the week, delegates will attend dinners, tours and concerts as well as business sessions.

"One of the main reasons for bringing the congress to Rochester is its proximity to Geneva, which the delegates will visit Sunday to honor Dr. Elizabeth Blackwell, first woman physician in the United States," Dr. Jean Watkeys, co-chairman, said.

Dr. Blackwell was graduated in 1849 from the Geneva College of Medicine, now the Medical Center of the State University of New York in Syracuse. The Blackwell medal—established in 1949 to commemorate the centennial of Dr. Blackwell's graduation—is given annually to a woman physician for medical achievement.

The medal will be awarded this year to Dr. Fe del Mundo, of the Philippines, during the opening session of the congress on the campus of Hobart and William Smith colleges in Geneva Sunday.

Hosts for the congress, which has as its theme "The Optimal Use of Medical Woman Power," are the American Medical Women's Association and the Federation of Medical Women of Canada.

Hospital Expansion

WELLSVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — The 80-bed Jones Memorial Hospital, which serves sections of New York and Pennsylvania, has begun a $1.9 million program to expand its capacity to 116 patients.

Ground was broken here Thursday for a partial third floor to the present two-story building and a new, two-story wing, with part of the cost, $300,000, paid for by a federal Appalachia anti-poverty grant.

The hospital serves Allegany County in New York and part of Potter County in Pennsylvania.

Deadend Tunnel In House Office Unit Explained

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a basement in the $87-million Rayburn House Office Building, a tunnel stretches from a freight elevator 95 feet into a concrete deadend.

Unlike the adjoining pedestrian corridor from the Rayburn building to the neighboring Longworth House Office Building, the tunnel goes nowhere. It isn't used for anything either.

"It was put in initially at the request of the Post Office Department in case they wanted to put in a conveyor system" from the Longworth Post Office to the Rayburn building, says James H. Banks, second assistant architect of the Capitol.

"But they're not ready to use it," Banks added in an interview. "The volume doesn't justify it."

"This is the first I ever knew what that was for; I often wondered about it," said House Postmaster H.H. Morris when told the architect's office said the corridor had been intended for a mail conveyor system.

"We wouldn't have been much in favor of it in the first place," Morris added. "They tried it over in the Senate Office Building but it just didn't work. Air currents would blow the letters off the belt. There wasn't any recommendation from us."

A Post Office Department spokesman concluded, "We could have suggested considering that they might put something like that in." But he added: "It would be entirely up to the Capitol architect."

Any conveyor system using the tunnel would have to pass through a room that houses large heating and air-conditioning equipment in order to reach the Longworth Post Office two stories higher.

Banks said it was correct that the architect's office made the final decision. "We thought it was a good idea," he said. "I still think it's a good idea."

Whatever its original purpose, the tunnel today lies virtually empty. About half the floor is painted, about two-thirds of the walls.

Two doors, numbered G3-15 and G3-15A, are propped open and tourists frequently wander in by mistake. The doors are marked "fire door, keep closed."

"It's a tunnel," said David Foutz, second assistant superintendent of House office buildings when asked what the tunnel is used for now. "What do you want to know about it for?" he asked a reporter. "You people will just write stories about it."

Banks, No. 3 man under Capitol architect J. George Stewart and assistant Mario E. Campioli, said he thought the tunnel would be used for storage. "We always needed more storage places," he said.

Told that the only thing in the tunnel at present is a broken whisky bottle, Banks laughed: "Well, somebody used it for something."

• BRIDGEGame Made With Safety

BY JACOB Y & SON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Now that Batman and Robin have come out four-square in favor of safety belts in motor cars we can afford to recommend their use in bridge. In bridge, of course, it is safety plays, not belts.

South's jump to four spades is somewhat of a gamble but every bridge player has taken worse chances in bidding.

He wins the heart opening and if he is a careless player he smiles happily and leads one of his high spades. West shows out and South can wriggle, twist, squirm, but he will have to lose three trump tricks provided East takes that first spade and does not lead a trump back.

South will surely blame bad luck for his downfall but it won't be bad luck. It will be lack of foresight.

If South stops to plan his whole play he will see that there is a safety play at his disposal that will protect him against all four trumps in the East hand. South must lose a diamond sometime or other. The time to lose it is at trick two. South should lead a low diamond. West can rise with his king and do anything he wants to. Eventually South gets to dummy with a second diamond and leads a trump.

The best play East can make is to duck. South will win the trick and get to dummy a second time by ruffing his ace of diamonds. Then he will lead dummy's last trump and East will be held to two trump tricks.

West may criticize East's double but a really good player would have adopted this line of play even without the double.

Preliminary Award Winners Are Announced At New York State Pageant in Olean, N. Y.

Two five foot seven blondes were preliminary award-winners today as the Miss New York Pageant in Olean, N. Y. entered its third day.

Carol Ann Christ, Miss Lancaster, was selected Thursday the best of one group of contestants in swim suit competition, while judges said Mary Alice Ward of Allegany, Miss Buffalo, was the most talented of another group.

Miss Christ, 18, has green eyes, weighs 120 pounds and is a 1965 high school graduate. Miss Ward, 20, is blue-eyed, weighs 128 and is a junior at the State University College at Buffalo. She played several organ selections.

They are among 19 young ladies seeking the Miss New York State title and the right to represent the state in the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City, N. J. in September.

Pamela Davis of Saugerties, who is wearing the "Miss Saugerties" crown, is among the group of contestants vying for top honors. She is competing in three categories: swim suit, evening gown and talent.

The 20-year-old Saugerties beauty is the daughter of John Davis, Freeman advertising salesman. Miss Davis has chosen a Chalk-Talk presentation for the talent competition in Olean. She will do a commentary while drawing caricatures of famous personalities.

Part of the wardrobe Miss Davis is wearing for the state contest was designed and made by her. A very personable individual, she is employed as a commercial artist by Graphic Techniques, Route 9W, Lake Katrine.

Ten finalists will be chosen on the basis of points awarded in the preliminary competition. A Miss New York State of 1967 will be crowned Saturday night.

The petrel, a large group of ocean birds, seldom come near land except during breeding season.

Five Contests Are Listed for State Exhibit in August

Premium Books for the New York State Exposition Art and Home Center competitions are now available. Mrs. John Vandervort, director of the Center, announces.

A total of $6,603.87 in prize money will be awarded this year by the Center in five separate contests. The Expo will be held in Syracuse, Tuesday, August 30 through Labor Day, Sept. 5.

The Premium Books can be obtained by writing to the Art and Home Center, New York State Exposition, 13209, the books contain entry blanks for four of the five competitions being sponsored by the Center. The Community Service Awards Contest entry blank is not included, as it was mailed out at an earlier date.

The 15th Annual Community Service Awards Contest will present $1,500 in cash awards to deserving volunteer organizations in the Empire State which have sponsored outstanding community projects on a local level during the past year.

In addition to a first place award of $500, another $500 will go to the most outstanding project entered in a special category of projects relating to the history of New York. This prize is being given in honor of the 1966 Expo celebration, "125 Years of History-Making." Entries for the Community Service Awards closed on June 24. Judging will take place in Albany on July 12.

The Creative Cooking Contest will give $1,771.87 in cash prizes for the most outstanding recipes represented by everything from cakes and cookies to canning. The deadline for entry is August 19 and judging will take place during the Expo.

A new contest feature in Creative Cooking this year will be the "Governor's Cookie Jar" which the winner will present to the Governor on Governor's Day at the Exposition.

The Home Arts Department is offering a total of $1,563 in 13 separate sections ranging from sewing and knitting to refashioning furniture. A special "125th Anniversary Section" is being featured this year. It will include antique quilts, furniture, toys and dolls and wall hangings. A $125 Grand Prize will be given in this section and another $125 Grand Prize will be given for the most outstanding entry in the other 12 sections of Home Arts.

A total of $1,420 in cash awards will be presented in the Crafts department which will have nine separate sections ranging from weaving to woodwork. A $125 Grand Prize will also be awarded in this department.

The Senior Citizens Home Arts and Crafts Department will give away $349 in prize money. There are nine sections in this competition ranging from painting to needlework. Special anniversary awards of $25 each will be given for a double wool coverlet made before 1860 and a 1841 document pertaining to New York State.

Deadline for all three of these contests is August 9. In addition to these competitions, the Art and Home Center will offer its visitors a varied and exciting bill of fare. The following will be among the main features of the Center's 1966 program. There will be two art shows, "125 Years of Painting and Sculpture in New York," and the Youth Art Festival, and three style shows, McCall's "Fall Themes in Fashion," the National Wool Council's "Make It Yourself with Wool," and the 4-H Dress Review.

The Auburn Children's Theater's Act Wagon will make its fifth appearance. A photography exhibition, "The World from the Air," which also appeared at the New York World's Fair, will be presented by George Eastman House of Rochester. The popular feature, Fantasy Land, will be back. The New York State Cooperative Extension Service will present a program on "Fibers and Fabrics." Last, but not least, the New York State Exposition Spelling Bee will be conducted for the third consecutive year since its revival.

Flatbush Church Fair
The annual bazaar sponsored by the Flatbush Reformed Church, Town of Saugerties, has been set for Aug. 27.

The Women's Guild of the church announces that this year the event will start 10 a. m. and continue throughout the day. Many interesting booths are planned and food will be available all day.

Doing The Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST

YOUNG GIRL QUESTIONS PROPERTY OF SOCIETY MATRON'S POSE

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette revised by Elizabeth L. Post, has been sent to Patricia Bowher of Windsor, Ontario.

Dear Mrs. Post: There recently appeared in newspapers a photo of a socially prominent woman displaying a new spring outfit. There she sat in an elegant cocktail dress, looking heaven only knows how much, with her legs swung over the arm of her chair! I am only 21 and I don't consider myself old-fashioned, but my mother has taught me since childhood that such a position was ungraceful, not to mention unladylike. To sit in this manner while wearing slacks in the privacy of your home is one thing, but to pose for a picture seen by millions of people, is unthinkable. Is this the way "society" behaves, where do we go from here?

Dear Patricia: The reactions and thoughts contained in this letter are well stated and display sense and understanding of decency.

I would only like to say that the "society" we look for an example of, educated, well-mannered living, does not behave this way. The lack of good taste in the above mentioned photograph, the fact that her picture was published showing her in such an undignified position, has undoubtedly caused considerable concern to this woman who is an established member of this "society."

Mr. and Mrs. or John and Mary?

Dear Mrs. Post: How does a wife properly refer to her husband when speaking to friends and acquaintances? — Elena
Dear Elena: She speaks of "John" to friends; of "my husband" to social acquaintances and of "Mr. Brown" to those in his employ as well as to business acquaintances.

Seafood Harvest Soars; America 5th on World List

By W. JOYNES MACFARLAN

WASHINGTON (AP) The people of the United States are eating more seafood than ever before.

Yet, the nation's commercial fishermen are failing to capitalize on the demand, even though they received more for their catch last year than ever before, government officials say.

They pointed to statistics showing: 1. Per capita consumption of fishery products in 1965 reached 11 pounds, the highest annual figure since 1954 and nearly half a pound higher than the 1964 average. The population also increased.

2. For the first time in history, U.S. imports of edible fishery products in 1965 exceeded 50 per cent of the supply and this country became the world's largest importer of such products.

3. The catch by U.S. fishermen, including industrial fish, was 4.7 billion pounds last year, only 4 per cent higher than the 1964 take, but the income of these fishermen was a record $451 million, compared with $390 million in 1964.

4. The total supply of edible fishery products was 5.1 billion pounds last year, a record, and up from the previous high of 4.9 billion pounds in 1964.

5. It developed that fishery resources off the shores of the United States could supply this nation with five times its present catch and provide the raw material needed to make it a major exporter of fishery products.

The Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, in the Interior Department, pointed out that the world's seafood harvest soared from 102.3 billion pounds in 1963 to 113.8 billion pounds in 1964 and that the expansion continued into 1965.

"The United States, however, did not share in this expansion of production and remained fifth among the fishing nations of the world," the bureau said.

Donald L. McKernan, director of the bureau, said in an interview there is cause for optimism, however, that domestic fisheries will be restored to their traditional place as one of the leading fishing nations of the world.

He said the government, aware of the tremendous potential fishery resources and the increase of foreign fishing activity off the U.S. coasts, has expanded programs of research, development, and services in its effort to insure that the nation participates fully in the harvest. McKernan rejected suggestions that there are shortages of various types of seafood because of over-fishing of the oceans, or because of foreign fishing off the American coasts. He said a major reason for price increases of some fishery products has been public demand for higher quality, and preparation as convenience foods.

He said the normal law of supply and demand also has been reflected in prices for such things as canned tuna and oysters, with reduced production followed by higher prices.

Ford Foundation Announces $325,000 Grant To Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society

Mrs. Gertrude Miller, president; Claude Montoux, conductor; and Dr. Raymond G. Kenyon, Development Director have jointly announced that the Ford Foundation has notified the Society that they are to receive $250,000 in endowment monies to be matched over the next five years, along with $75,000 (free) for expendable funds.

Some 50 major and metropolitan symphony orchestras were considered in the course of implementing the Ford Foundation's Program for American symphony orchestras. The Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society, Inc., was fortunate to have been selected by the Foundation for such a grant.

The President of the Foundation, in announcing the grants, stated: "American orchestras are unparalleled in number and quality, but many troublesome conditions limit the range of their services and raise uncertainties about the future supply of talented players." The objectives of the Ford Foundation in funding symphony programs such as the Hudson Valley Philharmonic are: to advance quality by enabling more musicians to devote their major energies to orchestral performance; to strengthen symphony organization and enlarge the audience for orchestral music by permitting the orchestra to perform their seasons. This may include more tours and more school, neighborhood, and suburban concerts; and to attract more talented young people to professional careers by raising income and prestige of orchestra members.

It may be remembered by many in the Hudson Valley Region that the current Philharmonic was founded in 1933 and originally called "The Dutchess County Philharmonic Society." At that time, with a limited budget of only a few thousand dollars raised by dedicated people interested in symphonic music, symphony concerts were begun on a regular basis. In 1960, the Society was reorganized and became the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society, Inc. At that time, a board of directors was most fortunate to secure as their musical director, a talented and nationally-recognized conductor, Claude Montoux. During the following year, in 1961 the Society expanded with the unification of Dutchess County Council, the Orange County Council, and the Ulster County Council. From that time to the current year, the Hudson Valley Philharmonic subscription concert series structure of 14 concerts performed in Society has increased to a special Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Kingston, Chatham and Montgomery, plus 3 chamber music series, numerous little symphony concerts, and innumerable school concerts.

In announcing the Ford Foundation's Program for American Symphonies, Edward F. D'Arms, associate director of the Foundation's Program in the Humanities and Arts, stated: "Many orchestras are striving to lengthen their seasons, even in the face of rising costs. Large as it is, this action by the Foundation will not in itself enable them to do so. But we hope that it will call widespread attention to the vast needs of a group of institutions at the very center of the nation's cultural life, thereby attracting the additional support they need."

The Ford Foundation, in affirming financial support to the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society, Inc. stated that the monies will be received in two categories of funds: endowment and free funds. The endowment portion of the funds is $250,000 and larger than the free funds of $75,000 and will be contingent upon matching within a specified period of time. The initial free funds are intended to relieve the orchestra from the necessity of increasing its regular annual fund-raising drives in a period during which they are conducting capital drives to raise matching funds. Sigmund Koch, Director of Humanities and the Arts Program for the Ford Foundation commenting on the general significance of the funding of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society, Inc., said: "The import of what we have learned about the situation of symphony players and orchestras is all the more disquieting when one considers that the symphony is the oldest and the best supportive of our non-commercial institutions in the performing arts. The very discrepancy between the size of the present program and the enormity of the need dramatizes the plight of the artist in our society. Philanthropy on this scale is feasible. Only when an artistic institution has achieved sufficient maturity to insure the value of the defects; one can hope that the massive requirements of other artistic institutions will be better appreciated by people everywhere as a result of the present action."

The present Ford Foundation action on behalf of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society, Inc., can be attributed to Claude Montoux, Conductor; Mrs. Sidney N. Miller, President; and the former Manager, Mrs. Helen Kronenfeld, who instituted the original proposal to the Ford Foundation early in January of 1966. In this proposal, the history of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society, Inc. was reviewed along with its detailed budget over the many years of its operation, along with the many and varied services offered by the Philharmonic to the peoples of the Mid-Hudson Region. It is a tribute to these dedicated people that the Ford Foundation announced the grant of $325,000 to the Society itself.

Dancing Area Opens In Wdsk. Tonight

According to an announcement made by Joe Holdridge, a new dancing area for teenagers will be opened tonight adjacent to the popular Swim-o-links site, Beersville Road, Woodstock.

The area was being prepared all this week and promises to be a popular get-together for the rest of the summer.

Mr. Holdridge also told The Freeman that teenagers and adults will be able to enjoy ice skating in the same area this winter.

New Treatment of Garden Fresh Vegetables

MARINATED VEGETABLES

Chilled marinated vegetables are especially appropriate for summer menus. With meat, poultry or seafood—grilled outdoors over coals or cooked indoors—they are the perfect do-ahead accompaniment. Moreover, they serve the double purpose of salad and vegetable.

When the marinated vegetables are prepared with frozen vegetables, it is a simple matter to provide a colorful assortment. The use of frozen vegetables eliminates preliminary preparation and assures vegetables that are garden fresh.

Marinades first began as simple brines for preparing fish. In fact, the name stems from the Latin word "maritimus," meaning of the sea. As interpreted today, a marinade consists of a cooking oil, an acid (vinegar, lemon juice or wine) and seasonings. When food stands or marinates in the mixture, it penetrates into the food carrying with it the savory blend of flavors.

Vegetables should be marinated only until thoroughly chilled. It is not advisable to allow them to stand too many hours since they may discolor from the wine or other ingredients in the mixture.

Following is a selection of recipes based on marinades from various countries. Although specific vegetables are called for, the marinades are interchangeable and can be used on vegetables other than those indicated.

Jamaican Spiced Carrots

- 1/2 cup olive or salad oil
- 4 tablespoons vinegar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon black pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon powdered mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon allspice
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar

WOODSTOCK NEWS

NEW LAST YEAR—Pretty, pastel and lending a carnival atmosphere to last year's Woodstock Library Fair was the Great Expectations booth, created by Jerry and Rosemary Jeromine.

ek. The booth, built to last for many years, will again be one of the major features of this year's gala bargain-hunting event here.

Local Jaycees
Install Officers

Woodstock Jaycees installed new officers at a special ceremony held at Deane's Restaurant recently. Ron Heilman served as chairman of the event.

Guest of honor was Benjamin Webster, who received a special "Man of the Year" award for lengthy service rendered in the areas of planning and zoning for Woodstock. Other guests included J. C. vanRijn, president of Rotron Manufacturing Co. Inc., Woodstock, and William R. West Jr., Woodstock supervisor.

Among those participating in the installation services were: W. Jack Kahn, past Jaycees president; newly elected president John Spratt; member at large Dom Vanacore; secretary-treasurer Robert Sleight; internal vice-president Ralph Perry; external vice-president Vincent Caliendo; and member at large Paul DeLisio.

Local Choralis
Sings in Opera

An exciting combination of artistic enterprises will take place in the Turnau Opera production of Orpheus which opens tonight in Woodstock. The chorus of Furies and Blessed Spirits will be supplied by the Woodstock Ars Choralis.

This enterprising and very successful group was recently formed under the direction of Bernard de Surcy and has given several concerts. This is its first appearance with an opera company.

Members of the chorus who will sing in Orpheus are: Margo Balmer, Kim Chalmers, James Cummins, Juliet Cunningham, Margaret Gambini, Linda Ketcham, Katherine Montgomery, Carolyn Schrier, Sidney Smith and James Williams. For further information on this production write to: Turnau Opera, Woodstock, or call the box office.

Reformed Church
Notes Schedule

Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church, Woodstock Village Green, will hold worship services this Sunday at 11 a. m. Sermon topic by the Rev. Donald Edgar Hicks, minister, will be, "Under the Eagle's Wings." Mrs. Carl Harrington will be at the organ and carillon and a nursery is provided for small children during worship.

The schedule for leaders of worship services for succeeding Sundays follows:
July 17—the Rev. Harvey I. Todd; July 24 and 31—the Rev. Harold Schade; August 7—the Rev. William Peckham; August 14—the Rev. Mr. Hicks.

RELAX AT HOME—Artistic endeavors all over for the day, Rosemary and Jerry Jeromine and son, Peter, five years old, take the summer sun at their New Paltz home. That's Rosemary's studio in the background.

Talented Jeromineks Added
Much to Library Fair Here

Jerry and Rosemary Jeromine, who designed and built the new Great Expectations booth for the 1965 Woodstock Library Fair, are vocal in their great expectations for a return to the Woodstock traditions: "...long Woodstock dresses, big hats, lovely ladies all flowing motion and color."

The pastel Great Expectations tent with its cheerful gilt rooster atop was designed around the colorful, ankle-length dress worn by chairman Mrs. Joseph Keefe. Rosemary Jeromine constructed a small mock-up, built to scale, from which the actual structure was copied. "We wanted to make it colorful, with carnival atmosphere and, of course, easy to put up and take down from year to year." Jerry will be on hand soon to help with the erection of the booth for the Library's 39th annual Fair on July 28.

Although the Jeromineks have a beautiful, old Colonial stone house, a tranquil retreat on the banks of the Wallkill near New Paltz, which they have lovingly restored, they retain a lively interest in Woodstock. Jerry commutes daily to his famous Tatra Prints studio on Millstream Road here and Rosemary comes along whenever her artistic talents are required. Otherwise she works in her studio at home, turning out delightful designs for her unique collage cards which are printed and distributed nationally. She often uses her two youngest children, golden haired Peter, aged five and Dylan, a lovely young lady of 11, as models. First drawing her designs, then using the drawing as a model, she constructs the final product with snips of colored paper.

Studied in Poland

Rosemary, who received an art scholarship to the University of Cracow and studied in Poland, is enthusiastic about everything Polish, including sausage, herring prepared Polish-style but taken from the Roundout Creek by Jerry, and her husband whose Polish ancestry has left him heir to a village. Recently the present government of Poland requested him to sign papers relinquishing his rights but he declined politely. "I doubt that we'll ever get it back," he laughs, "but it's fun to sit here, watching the Wallkill flow by and think you own a Polish town."

The Jeromineks are vaguely planning a trip to the homeland to look up family records and let the children see where some of their ancestors came from, but the problem seems to be finding time for travel since their many artistic outlets keep them constantly busy. After spending eight years restoring their place, including the building of a stone barn which Rosemary designed, Jerry has turned to the lost art of etching on glass. One window pane of their home contains young Peter's hand-etched birth announcement; another, stylized horses from a sketch by Rosemary. Silk screening, posters and Christmas cards are always in production at Tatra Prints and both Jeromineks paint. In between artistic activities, they enjoy entertaining informally, presenting guests with an amazing variety of fine foods, Polish and otherwise. A busy, productive family who live miles from Woodstock but are always very much a part of the local scene.

Farmer's Market Entered

Farmer's Market at Port Even was entered some time between 10 p. m. Wednesday and 10 a. m. Thursday and a quantity of merchandise taken. Deputy Sheriff James Walsh was assigned to investigate. It was reported four windows had been left open during the night. Three canned hams and a quantity of cold cuts were taken from the counter. The value was estimated at $30. There was no evidence of a forced entrance. The burglary is under investigation.

Maverick Concert to Resound
To Percussion Music Sunday

The Paul Price Manhattan Percussion Quartet, which performed at the Maverick Hall here in 1962, will be heard again in the second of this year's concerts Sunday afternoon. Music patrons who remember the group's engagement four years ago know of the unusual instruments used, including tom-toms, rattles, cowbells, vibraphones, temple blocks and another called a "dragon's mouth." In spite of this array, the hall survived the onslaught although, at the time, there seemed to be a good possibility it might not.

Using the same percussion instruments again, the Price Quartet is expected to furnish plenty of sound in all its massive and curious vibrations at Sunday's concert.

Price will conduct a program by some ultra new composers, including Woorinen, Warren Benson, Paul Zukofsky, William Russell, William Kraft and, of course, Paul Price.

New York music circles take conductor Price very seriously, as do leading cultural institutions throughout this country and abroad. Leopold Stokowski calls him "Mr. Percussion," and even the staid Wall Street Journal, in an article discussing the phenomenal rise of percussion music in this day and age, was surprised to find that Price was "a small man in a gray flannel suit and black tie."

Conservatories Graduate

Sunday's Maverick guest artist is a graduate of Boston and Cincinnati Music Conservatories and has been on the faculties of Illinois and Boston Universities. He has given numerous chamber music concerts, appeared on television, made widely sold and well appreciated recordings and stimulated a whole group of new composers to write for percussion ensembles. Price is also the head of the percussion department of the Manhattan School of Music.

The Maverick Committee is sure patrons of the concerts will enjoy and be greatly interested in this unusual and off-beat type of music, so far removed from the usual 19th century romanticism heard in the hall. The committee points out that the enormous increase in entirely new percussion instruments is a special phenomenon of the Twentieth Century, and that musicologists have variously attributed this to the influence of jazz on serious composers and the impingement of the rhythms of total industrialization on the conscious and unconscious mind. There is no doubt, then, that the Maverick Hall and the surrounding woods will resound to unaccompanied but thrilling sounds this Sunday.

Turnau Slates
Repeat of Folk
Dance Program

A wave of generous contributions made possible a charming evening at the Turnau Opera's Byrdcliffe Theatre last weekend. Internationally known dance leader Fred Berk with two of his students donated his services as a teacher and caller of folk dances to over 50 people of all ages.

Contributions of delicious food and pastries were made by the Woodstock Eatery, Schneller's Meats, The Cake Box and the Wonder Bread Company.

Such a good time was had by everyone that it was decided to repeat the pleasant occasion on Saturday, July 16, at St. Gregory's Episcopal Church. The starting time is 8 p. m. There is a nominal charge for tickets; all proceeds go to benefit the Turnau Opera Players. For information write to Turnau Opera, Woodstock, or call the box office.

Christ Scientist
Sets Communion

Communion will be observed in all Christian Science branch churches this Sunday. "Sacrament" is the subject of the lesson-sermon. The service occurs twice each year, and is altered from other Sundays to include reading of the Church Tenets and a period for kneeling in silent communion. This is followed by a second repetition of the Lord's Prayer, which is an integral part of the opening for all Christian Science services.

The Golden Text this week is from Romans: "The kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost."

Correlative passages from the denominational textbook include the following: "We know that a desire for holiness is requisite in order to gain holiness; but if we desire holiness above all else, we shall sacrifice everything for it" ("Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy).

Sunday services in Woodstock are held at 11 a. m.

Pakonen to Head '67 School Board

Named Secretary Of State Group

The annual meeting of Saugerties Central Schools Board of Education was held Tuesday, Jack O. Pakonen was re-elected to serve another year as president. Mrs. Helen E. Ziegler was re-elected clerk; Gerald L. Snyder, treasurer; Rosenblum and Lamb, School District attorneys; and William Westendick, tax collector for the District area within the towns of Ulster and Woodstock. Vernon Benjamin was appointed attendance officer for the 1966-67 school year. Saugerties National Bank and Trust Company was designated as the official bank for school depository funds, and the Catskill Mountain Star and Saugerties Post were named as official newspapers.

Regular meetings were set for the third Monday in each month, beginning at 7:30 p. m. in the Administration Building, Hill Street.

At a special meeting following the organization meeting, president Pakonen appointed the following committees to serve during the 1966-67 school year: Building—Henry P. Breitenbach, chairman, Edwin E. Olson, Arthur F. Simmons and Leroy W. Snyder; Finance—Robert C. Cline, chairman, Charles P. Emerick, Ann F. Karashay and Arthur F. Simmons; Site—Edwin E. Olson, chairman, Charles P. Emerick, Leroy W. Snyder and Anthony Rizzo; Salary—Henry P. Breitenbach, chairman, Robert C. Cline, Edwin E. Olson and Anthony Rizzo.

MRS. ALBERT CONTE

Saugerties Columbianettes, of Knights of Columbus Council No. 4538, took great pride this week in announcing that Mrs. Albert V. Conte was elected State Secretary of the Columbianettes at the annual convention held recently at the Americana Hotel, New York City.

The organization consists of 11,000 members in 103 auxiliaries in New York State and is active in New Jersey and Connecticut, while making plans for future expansion to other states.

Mrs. Conte is the wife of Albert V. Conte, navigator of the Fourth Degree. She is a past president of Saugerties Columbianettes and a current trustee. She is also chairman of Saugerties Unit No. 14 "Typing for the Blind" program, in which Columbianettes throughout the State are actively participating in conjunction with the Xavier Society for the Blind, New York City.

Vacation School Enrollment 109

Saugerties Methodist Church, Washington Avenue, Saugerties, has scheduled summer worship service Sunday at 9:30 a. m. Sermon topic will be, "What Is Happiness?" and will begin a series of sermons on the theme, "Finding the Unexpected." Mrs. Jane Tommessen is organist and Miss Mildred Norwick will be soprano soloist. Child care is provided for infants and toddlers and summer Sunday school is held for children in the three to eight age group in the parish house.

Announcement has been made that Vacation Bible School enrollment reached 109. This school will close today and parents have been invited to attend final day classes, meet the teachers and view the work accomplished.

Attic Treasures Sale

Ellen Russell Finger Home will hold an "attic treasures" sale on the lawn of the home, Ulster Avenue, Saugerties, Wednesday, July 13, from 1 to 5 p. m.

Among the items being offered for sale are a quantity of old dishes and plates; straight-backed, wicker and rocking chairs; several trunks; a desk; and miscellaneous items.

The Board of Managers of the Home also says refreshments will be served.

Exempts Clambake

The annual clambake of the Exempt Firemen's Association of Saugerties will be held Sunday, July 17, at Cantine's Memorial Field, Washington Avenue, Saugerties. The bake is slated to begin at 11 a. m. with the main bake scheduled at 3 p. m.

The affair is for men only and all are invited.

Tickets may be purchased from Raymond Teitter, ticket chairman, or Harry Hornbeck, president. Deadline for purchasing tickets is July 11.

Calm Start for Medicare

Paperwork Gains, Patients Normal

EDITOR'S NOTE — Members of The Associated Press task force, who reported on the initial impact of Medicare when it went into effect July 1, have kept a watch on hospitals in major cities during the program's first week. This is their report.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After the first week of Medicare, the nation's hospitals generally report they have much more paperwork but not many more patients.

Atlanta Notes Upswing

A survey in 12 major cities indicates that the number of 65-and-over patients entering hospitals has been mostly normal since the program of hospital insurance under Social Security went into effect July 1. Only Atlanta, with a 10 per cent gain, reported a significant increase.

"After all it's still the doctor who says when a patient should be admitted to a hospital," said Dr. Robert M. Hazen of Kansas City, advancing one reason for Medicare's calm start.

Others given by hospital administrators included the availability of private medical insurance and other public health care, and the fact that Medicare went into effect in summer, a normally slow time for hospitals.

In New York, said Dr. S. David Pomrine, assistant director of Mt. Sinai Hospital, the city "has long made it a practice to give medical care to all people. The payoff is that we don't have any greater demand now than before."

Urgency Scare Over

The hospital's director of admissions, Nat Lewis, said: "The urgency, the scare has passed. Anything that comes now is simply a matter of procedure and that can be worked out. Our only impact here is paper."

That was the major impact at Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami, where head clerk Barbara Maton said her dozen helpers are "up to here in forms, perforated tape and problems."

Some hospital people warned that the future course of Medicare may not run as smoothly as the past week.

John Brewer, chairman of the Southern California Council of Hospitals, pointed out that in Los Angeles fall is a more popular time than summer for elective surgery.

"This is going to be a gradual thing, not a sudden one," he predicted, reporting that only a small number of operations have increased in his area since July 1.

Sees Impact in Future

The real impact of Medicare lies in the future, said Sister Mary James, administrator of Hotel Dieu (House of God), a New Orleans hospital.

"I have been told that the people now over 65 are people who always have avoided doctors or hospitals whenever possible and that the real medical care load will come when younger people reach the age of 65," she said. "I think there is some truth in this."

Those among the nation's 19 million persons 65 and over who have taken advantage of Medicare so far had high praise for the program.

"If I didn't have it, I wouldn't be here," said Valentine Kuffel, 79, from his bed in St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Chicago. He was admitted July 4 for surgery.

"Of course I'm happy," said Vincent Locasio, 75, a retired carpenter, at Research Medical Center in Kansas City. "Why shouldn't I be? A lot of people have nothing to go on. This was necessary."

Not all patients admitted under Medicare cannot afford private care. At Miami's Jackson Memorial Hospital, Raymond S. Perrine, 66, a former Pennsylvania coal magnate, was admitted after he got back from a world cruise last month. He found trouble developing with his pacemaker, an instrument that keeps his heart beating.

Cover Pacemaker Cost

"I thought if I could get a few more days, I could get in under Medicare," said Perrine, who now lives in Bradenton, Fla. "So I negotiated with the doctor and was admitted July 2 and operated on July 3."

Perrine was happy to discover that Medicare covered the cost of the pacemaker, a delicate electronic battery inserted in a patient's body. He had deposited $500 to cover its cost but was told he would get the money back.

"I'm glad to hear it," he said. "I don't ever disregard the value of a dollar."

Queen Expecting

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BRUSSELS (AP) — Queen Fabiola of Belgium is expecting a baby.

A communique issued by the grand marshal of the royal court said King Baudouin "is pleased to inform the country that a happy event can be expected at his household."

On the advice of her doctors, the queen is canceling all public engagements. Now 28, the childless queen had a miscarriage in 1963.

A court spokesman said the baby is expected this winter. King Baudouin and Fabiola, a Spaniard, were married Dec. 15, 1960.

Will Circle Globe

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle will circle the globe when he visits France's nuclear testing ground in the Pacific this summer, informed sources reported today.

De Gaulle will leave Aug. 26 and fly first to Djibouti, capital of French Somaliland at the eastern tip of Africa. Then he will go to Ethiopia for a state visit and on to Cambodia, a former French protectorate, for talks about the Viet Nam war and other major issues.

New Caledonia will be De Gaulle's next stop. Then he goes to Tahiti and the nuclear testing center at nearby Mururoa. De Gaulle will continue on around the world, stopping at Guadeloupe and returning to Paris Sept. 12, the sources said.

Gives Assurance

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Army strongman Lt. Gen. Suharto has assured various Indonesian organizations that he will comply with their wishes in forming a new cabinet.

Representatives of 12 organizations and of the powerful Students' Action Front called on Suharto Thursday amid some dissatisfaction over the result of the congressional session which ended Wednesday.

An army statement quoted Suharto as saying that Congress could not satisfy everybody but that maximum results had been achieved. "The most important thing is its implementation," Suharto said.

Dissatisfaction was mainly centered on the congressional resolution implying that President Sukarno still can have strong influence on the new cabinet which Suharto is to form.

4 Cars Damaged In Village Crash

Four vehicles were damaged and a motorist was cited for driving with inadequate brakes, as a result of a mishap which occurred at 2:15 p. m. Thursday at the intersection of Ulster Avenue and Market Street, Saugerties.

Officer William C. Johnson said a station wagon driven by Lucille E. Leskin, 49, of Box 142, Palenville, and a car operated by Robert Schwartz, 70, of 30 Main Street, Tannersville, were stopped on Market Street waiting for a traffic light to change.

A third vehicle driven by Philip E. Clark, 19, of 21 Plattkill Drive, Saugerties, was traveling east on Ulster Avenue when the brakes reportedly failed and the driver tried to squeeze past a pickup truck operated by Harry E. Young, 21, of Catskill. Clark's car sidestepped the truck, police said and hit the Schwartz car, pushing it into the Leskin vehicle.

Clark was cited by Johnson for driving with inadequate brakes. The summons is returnable on Tuesday at 6 p. m. aid for community hospitals and other health facilities.

Agree to Study

Meeting in regular session Thursday night, members of the Saugerties Town Board heard Supervisor Peter M. Williams read a letter from the president of the Division of Hospital Review and Planning, New York State Department of Health, which agreed to a study of his proposal for establishing a hospital in Saugerties.

The letter, dated June 29 from Albany, was in answer to a letter the supervisor had written earlier in the month and was signed by Dr. John J. Burke, assistant commissioner of the Review Council. The letter follows:

"This is to acknowledge your letter of June 16, 1966. With the cooperation of both Kingston and Catskill hospitals, our personal thinking in this office with regard to the development of a new general hospital in Saugerties has not changed."

"However, I am requesting Mr. Jerome F. Peck Jr., secretary of the Northern Metropolitan Hospital Review and Planning Council to arrange for a study of your proposal with the cooperation of the Hospital Review and Planning Council of Southern New York through Dr. Jack Haldebrand, president."

Setback in 1963

The "personal thinking" of the Council which had "not changed," according to the letter, was established in the fall of 1963 when Saugerties groups interested in a hospital here requested what they called "discouraging news" on any such contemplated project. The Council secretary at that time advised that the project would not receive favorable consideration because the center of the township is within 30 minutes of modern hospital facilities both in Kingston and Catskill. He said further that, under no circumstances, would the Council consider establishing a hospital in Saugerties under 100 beds.

If matters do not seem to have changed much, there is still cause for hope locally. As far back as 1958 Supervisor William Wilson and Jesse McHugh, representing Ulster County Board of Supervisors, journeyed to Albany to lobby for a Saugerties hospital. Negative results the following year did not dampen enthusiasm for the project.

What seems important now is that assistance might come from the Hill-Burton Program, initiated by the U. S. Public Health Service following passage of the Hospital and Medical Facilities Survey and Construction Act some years ago. Through Hill-Burton, authorized grants to assist in constructing needed hospitals and public health centers are often readily obtained.

Amendment to the Act now gives eligible sponsors the option to take a loan in lieu of a grant.

Area Grants Included

Supervisor Williams and the Town Board are even more interested in a major new provision of Hill-Burton, which became law only last year, and includes the authorization of modernization grants and project grants for area-wide planning. If any new hospital built here was strategically and centrally located, it is felt it would attract patients from all over the area, including Woodstock and Phoenicia and might even be expected to appeal to Kingston residents, who have found their own hospitals overcrowded and will find them even more so now that Medicare is officially in effect.

Under Hill-Burton, the federal share ranges from one-third to two-thirds of the cost of construction and equipment. If loans are arranged instead of grants, they may be made for a maximum period of 40 years at a low interest rate.

Many are convinced that there is a need for a hospital here and need is, more often than not, the determining factor in securing a grant or loan. If, in addition to the need, Saugerties stood ready to provide a large tract of property on which an adequate building already existed, the possibility of a hospital would seem even closer.

Informed sources have stated that property answering this description is quite possible available at no cost to the town. It is situated in a prime location, boasts a beautiful building and considerable acreage and has been valued at approximately $500,000. If the owner is indeed civic-minded enough to want to offer such a hospital-oriented property to the town, all the years of work and effort for hospital, health and clinic facilities here will not have been in vain. Indeed will have been well worth the struggle.

Invites Viet Airing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee indirectly has invited a full airing of senators' views on the Viet Nam war.

In its formal report on the administration's foreign aid bill, the committee said "consideration of the aid program this year is inevitably influenced by the war in Viet Nam — a war that casts a very long shadow."

The committee pictured the $3.4-billion program as useful medicine but with hazardous side effects. It said aid was a factor in U. S. involvement in Viet Nam and in the India-Pakistan conflict.

The legislation is scheduled to reach the Senate floor next week as members return from the July 4th recess with a fresh idea of voter sentiment on the Viet Nam war.

To Hear Klein July 19

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee has set July 19 as the date for receiving public testimony from Julius Klein, owner of a Chicago public relations firm, on his dealings with Sen. Thomas J. Dodd.

The bipartisan committee is investigating a misconduct charges made against the Connecticut Democrat by columnist Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson.

In public hearings last month, Dodd denied any improper conduct on behalf of Klein, a registered agent for West German business interests and a friend of the senator. Pearson and Anderson, in a series of columns, pictured Dodd as acting as "an errand boy" for Klein and as making a trip to West Germany in 1964 to help him retain his clients.

Ask Anti-Poverty Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans have called for drastic revision of the entire anti-poverty program, accusing the administration of fighting a sham battle instead of a genuine war against poverty.

The GOP Coordinating Committee, composed of Republican governors, congressional leaders, state legislators and national committee members, urged revamping the Office of Economic Opportunity, enlarging the roles of state and private industry, and giving priority to helping the children of the poor.

Capital Footnotes

The Agriculture Department increases 1966 sugar import quotas by 100,000 tons, bringing total domestic and foreign quotas to 18.1 million tons. Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, is reported resting comfortably at Walter Reed Army Hospital where he underwent a satisfactory operation for removal of a cataract from his right eye. The Federal Trade Commission urges all states to enact laws against consumer deception and unfair competitive practices.

The Commerce Department reports retail sales totaled $6.102 billion during the week ended July 2, up 6 per cent from both the previous week and the corresponding week last year.

Center to Follow Housing

A community center is to be built in the Meadow Street area of the site. Plans for this are considered along with those for the housing project but it is expected that actual construction of it will not start until the housing project is well under way. It is expected that the center, which will provide for various recreation facilities will be used on a citywide as well as neighborhood basis.

Only 15 Attend

A public hearing held Thursday night to consider the revised 1966-67 budget for Central School District No. 2W, Ellen-ville, was attended by less than 15 persons. On Tuesday, July 12, voters of the district will go to the polls to ballot on a budget of $2,246,608, which is about $41,000 less than the tentative budget which was defeated on June 7. It will be the third time the taxpayers have voted on a budget for the next school year. For three consecutive years the budget for the school district has not been approved by the taxpayers until a third vote.

Beach Float Located

Andrew J. Murphy 3rd, local recreation superintendent, today reported that the Kingston Point Beach float, which had been cut loose from its moorings over last weekend, has been located at Esopus Island. Local police were notified Thursday that the float had been seen near the Theodore Oxholm property in Esopus. The sheriff's department has cooperated in the search. It is expected that the float will be towed here at first opportunity.

Giants Acquire Defensive End, 3-Club Deal

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants of the National Football League acquired Maurice Yeomans, 250-pound defensive end, from the Atlanta Falcons Friday in a three-club deal that also involved the Washington Redskins.

The Giants sent John McDowell, a defensive tackle, to the Redskins for Angelo Coia, who in turn was shipped to Atlanta for Yeomans. Yeomans came to Atlanta in last winter's expansion draft from Dallas.

Herzog Construction Tops Lions, 3-1, to Take Two Lead

McAndrew Hurls Two-Hitter for Club's 4th Win

Lon McAndrew unfurled a 2-hitter, as Herzog Construction defeated Kingston Lions Club, 3-1, Thursday to take over the City Baseball League lead with a record of 4 wins and one defeat.

McAndrew, who fanned nine and walked three, lost his shut-out when Lions scored an unearned run on a walk, stolen base and error in the second inning.

Ted Bream, the losing pitcher, allowed five hits but two were first inning triples by Jerry Hawkins and Ron Thomas and a single by Jack Watzka to account for two runs. After that he matched McAndrew pitch for pitch, striking out seven and walking four.

Herzog's final tally in the fifth was the result of an error and Len Whitten's double. Tim Bowen and Charlie Lay collected the Lions singles.

Ferraro's 4th HR Paces Toledo

Mike Ferraro hit his fourth home run of the season last night in Jacksonville as Toledo ripped the Suns, 5-1, and 6-4, in an International League doubleheader.

Frank Fernandez and Wayne Comer also hit roundtrippers for the Hens as they rallied from a 4-3 deficit in the second game. Jacksonville had home runs from the bat of Ernie Bowman, Buddy Harrelson and Danny Napoleon.

At the conclusion of last night's games, Ferraro showed a .266 batting average for the Hens. He has 75 hits in 282 trips to the plate.

In other league action, Columbus beat Richmond, 5-1; Buffalo topped Rochester, 14-5; and Toronto whitewashed Syracuse, 3-0.

Drysdale Wins 6th, Gets 3 Hits

By MURRAY CHASS Associated Press Sports Writer

Good hit, no throw.

That's the story of Don Drysdale's latest effort, but the hitting overcame the throwing and enabled Drysdale and the Los Angeles Dodgers to overcome Atlanta 3-2 Thursday night.

Drysdale, who has had numerous pitching problems this season, added some more to his list in the first 4½ innings against the Braves, throwing wild twice and hitting a batter once.

In the last four innings, though, the hitting took over as he rapped singles three times.

The big right-hander's difficulties started in the third inning with two Braves on base and two out. Drysdale tried to pick Frank Bolling off second, but the throw went wide and the Braves had two runners in scoring position.

Aaron Delivers Drysdale then hit Mack Jones with a pitch, loading the bases, before Hank Aaron cracked a two-run single.

The Dodgers' onetime ace uncorked another wild pickoff throw with a man on and two out in the fifth, but this time he pitched out of it.

Drysdale the hitter then took over. He led off the bottom of the fifth with a single and reached second, then led off the seventh with a single and reached third. But Los Angeles didn't get a run either time.

He persisted, though, and one of his hits finally produced a run. With the game tied 2-2, Wes Parker at short and two out in the eighth inning, Drysdale grounded to third and beat it out for a run-scoring single.

In other National League games Thursday, San Francisco outslug Cincinnati 7-5, Chicago edged Pittsburgh 5-4 and New York topped Philadelphia 9-6.

Drysdale, winning his sixth game against 11 losses, left for a pinch runner after his third hit. He allowed five hits in eight innings, and Phil Regan stopped Atlanta in the ninth. Maury Wills had a run-producing single for the Dodgers while Jim Lefebvre contributed a sacrifice fly.

Yallum's Pace Bridge Tourney

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yallum of Kingston posted an excellent 65½ percent game to lead the North-South side of the Glen-erie Bridge Club's fractional point game.

Winners on the East-West side were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest LeFevre of Hurley with 62½ percent.

The runners-up: North-South: Arling Kalleberg, West Hurley, and Dr. John Roberts, Kingston, 60½ percent; Miss Dorothy Maroon and Mrs. A. Adner, Kingston, 53½ percent.

East-West: Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Peck, Woodland, 62 percent; Emil Jensen-Joseph Dell, Poughkeepsie, 51 percent.

A fractional point game is scheduled tonight at 7:30 at the Elks Lodge on Fair Street. All bridge players are invited.

Leave Mantle off All Star '9'

Mele Says Yanks Asked Omission

BOSTON (AP) — Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' aging and ailing but still dangerous slugger, was left off the American League All-Star team for the first time in 13 years today as the squad was filled for the annual classic with the National League next Tuesday at St. Louis.

Minnesota Manager Sam Mele, who will direct the American All-Stars in St. Louis' Busch Stadium, named Carl Yastrzemski of the Boston Red Sox, Rocky Colavito of the Cleveland Indians and rookie Tommie Agee of the Chicago White Sox as reserve outfielders.

The 35-year-old Mantle, who ranks seventh in baseball's all-time home run derby with 488, reportedly was omitted by Mele at the request of the Yankees.

Bothered by a shoulder ailment and a chronic knee condition, Mantle got off to a slow start this season and was hitting only .250 when players, managers and coaches voted the starting fielders June 22.

Set Major Record However, he got hot at bat a few days later and, despite a pulled groin muscle, along with his other physical troubles, set a major league record by hitting eight homers in six games. The spree boosted his season home run total to 15.

Mantle appeared in All-Star games from 1953 through 1962, and then again in 1964. He was named to the 1963 and 1965 squads, but withdrew because of injuries.

Yastrzemski, struggling to end a prolonged slump which dipped his average to the low .260s, was fourth in the balloting which named Frank Robinson of Baltimore, Tony Oliva of Minnesota and Al Kaline of Detroit as the starting outfielders. Yaz appeared in the 1963 All-Star game. He was selected last year, but withdrew because of injury.

Colavito, eighth in the voting, was named for the third straight year and the seventh since 1959. Agee, a 23-year-old sensation, was chosen as the White Sox' lone representative despite his 10th-place choice by opposing players, managers and coaches.

Mele picked the Twins' Earl Battey and Baltimore rookie

Killebrew Named

Mele followed the voting in picking Norm Cash of Detroit as his first baseman behind rookie starter George Scott of Boston; second baseman Bobby Richardson of New York behind the Angels' Bobby Knoop, and Minnesota slugger Harmon Killebrew as understudy to third baseman Brooks Robinson of Baltimore.

Killebrew was named for the sixth year and Richardson for the fifth.

The Twins' manager dug deep and selected Jim Fregosi of the Angels as his No. 2 shortstop behind the Tigers' Dick McAuliffe.

Detroit placed five on the 25-player team. Baltimore and Minnesota each had four players chosen; Cleveland three, California, Boston and New York two each, and Chicago, Kansas City and Washington one each.

National League All-Star Selections Are Completed

CINCINNATI (AP) — The National League's 25-man All-Star squad was completed today with the selection of 10 more players, including Los Angeles' Jim Lefebvre to replace Houston's injured Joe Morgan as the starting second baseman.

The selections were made by Dodger Manager Walter Alton, who picked Felipe Alou of Atlanta as a reserve first baseman although he received votes as an outfielder in the players' poll. Alton will manage the Nationals in the game Tuesday at St. Louis.

Alton named outfielders Willie Stargell of Pittsburgh, Curt Flood of St. Louis and Richie Allen of Philadelphia to back up the starting outfield of Hank Aaron of Atlanta, Willie Mays of San Francisco and Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh.

Additional players selected were shortstop Maury Wills of Los Angeles, second baseman Ron Hunt of New York and third baseman Jim Ray of San Francisco, and catchers 5th for Wills Wills will be making his fifth appearance on the All-Star team. The Dodgers base-stealing artist was the starting shortstop last year.

Stargell made the squad for the third time. Allen, Alou, Flood and Hunt will be making their second appearances.

The completed roster gives San Francisco six All-Star representatives, the most of any National club. Atlanta, St. Louis, Los Angeles and Pittsburgh have three each; Philadelphia and Cincinnati, two each, and New York, Chicago and Houston, one each.

Bullpen Duty Ahead for Ford

NEW YORK (AP) — Whitey Ford's immediate future is in the New York Yankee bullpen.

Ford, dean of the Yankee pitching staff, who has not won a game this season, went to Manager Ralph Houk before Thursday's night game against the Boston Red Sox, and asked to be assigned to the Yankee relief corps.

"He told me his arm seems to go numb on him after three or four innings," said Houk. "He's had no problem getting loose, but after a couple of innings, he seems to lose the life in his arm."

"We discussed the problem and decided putting him in the bullpen would be the best move."

Ford, who had an operation on his left shoulder for a circulatory problem in the winter of 1964, said, "I've always said I'd like to relieve Now, I'll see how it feels."

Dukes Tie League Race, Nip Subway Grill, 2-0

That red hot race in the City Softball League remained the same last night as the Royal Dukes moved back into a first place tie with Armstrong's Eagles by whitewashing Subway Grill, 2-0, at Block Park.

While George Norton was twirling the seven-hit shutout for the winners, Tom Fiore supplied the batting punch with a double and home run, driving in both runs.

Norton notched his third shut-out of the season and his mates backed him up with flawless play in the field.

Mickey's 16th HR Tops Sox

By ED SCHUYLER JR. Associated Press Sports Writer

Mickey Mantle, who has trouble adjusting to Yankee Stadium after returning from a road trip, adjusted just in time to save the Yankees from further embarrassment.

"I never like coming back here," Mantle said after New York defeated Boston 5-2 Thursday night. "It's tough adjusting to this park. You always try to pull the ball."

Try or not to pull the ball, that's exactly what Mantle did with two out in the ninth inning, and it sailed into the right-field seats for a three-run homer.

The blast, only Mantle's second hit in 18 at bats since returning to New York July 4 after a road trip in which he hit eight homers in six games, kept the last-place Red Sox from sweeping the four-game series.

This year, for the first time since 1953, Mantle was not named to the American League All-Star team, but he has no regrets.

Can Use the Rest "I can use the rest," he said. "Those other guys deserve it more. I just had that one hot week."

In the only other AL action, the Chicago White Sox defeated Washington 8-5 and Detroit edged Minnesota 4-3.

Going into the bottom of the ninth at Yankee Stadium, the Red Sox had a 2-0 lead, built when Tony Conigliaro scored on a force out in the fourth and singled home a run in the ninth.

Then after one out, Rolfe Sheldon walked two Yankees and Don McMahon came in to pitch. Pinch hitter Jake Gibbs singled home a run and moved the other runner to third. Tom Tresh followed with a sacrifice fly to tie it. Then after Bobby Richardson singled, Mantle unloaded his 16th homer of the season.

Tanis Vintage Car Wins at Saugerties Six members of the Woodstock Motor Club prepped for their annual show in Kingston Sunday by appearing at the 4th of July ceremonies at Saugerties.

Ed Tanis won first place in his division with his 1929 Model A sedan. Others attending were: Ed Gardner, Saugerties, 1929 Hupmobile roadster; Mike Lovy, Hurley, 1931 Auburn sedan; Gus Lovy, Kingston, Model T touring; Don Roth, Saugerties, 1924 Model T coupe; and Jerry Gardner, Saugerties, 1951 Jaguar roadster.

Yesterday's Stars BATTING — Mickey Mantle, New York, hit a two-out, three-run homer, clinching a five-run, ninth-inning rally that gave the Yankees a 5-2 victory over Boston.

VINTAGE AUBURN: This 1931 Auburn sedan, owned by Mike Lory of Hurley will be seen in the Woodstock Motor Club's annual Auto Show Sunday at the Kingston Shopping Plaza. The show starts at 10 a. m., with judging at 1 p. m. The Lory auto is now being restored after 13 years in storage.

Eight Teams Set For Mid-Hudson

Marking time for Sunday's exhibition against Schwaben Sport Club of New York, the Kingston Sport Club today announced the 8-team field for the annual Mid-Hudson Valley Soccer Tournament on August 7.

The Schwaben squad played the 1965-66 German-American Association season in the Premier Division, a notch above the League Division but was relegated to the League Division for 1966-67.

Game time is 3:30 p. m. and Manager Bob Graves will have the Kickers at full strength. "We'll go with the team that stopped the league champion Shamrocks," he said. "Schwabens cannot be underestimated."

Plan Annual Picnic

Graves said a few players who excelled in tryouts might see action, depending on the course of the game.

The Sport Club will stage its annual picnic in conjunction with the game and the public is invited to participate.

The seven teams scheduled to participate in the Mid-Hudson tournament, along with the host Sport Club are: Eintracht Sport Club, Astoria; German-American A.C., New York; White Plains S.C., Albany Sport Club, Spring Valley; Bavarians S.C., New York; West New York, N. J.

Buckpasser Sets Sights on Title; Faces Abe's Hope

By TED MEIER

Buckpasser, the colt who set a world record for the mile of 1:32.35 in his last outing, the Arlington Classic, hopes to take another giant stride Saturday towards the 3-year-old championship.

This time Ogden Phipps' sensational colt meets Abe's Hope for the first time since their thrilling duel in the Flamingo at Hialeah when Buckpasser won by a nose in the last jump.

Their clash in the $100,000 Chicagoan Stakes at Arlington Park in the second leg of the Mid-America Triple shares the weekend headlines in horse racing with the $100,000 Hollywood Park Derby and the $100,000 Roosevelt International Trot, one of harness racing's most glamorous events.

A small field is expected to go against Buckpasser in the 1 1/4 miles of the Chicagoan in which the Phipps color bearer will tote 123 pounds to 116 for Abe's Hope. Better Sea, winner of the Omaha Gold Cup Handicap at Ak-Sar-Ben, is expected to be a starter under 118.

Buckpasser, the 2-year-old champion in 1965, had been expected to contest the Triple Crown classics of the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes with Graustark, but both were injured and missed the Triple Crown events. Graustark was retired for breeding purposes, but Buckpasser returned to the races on June 4 and has been unbeaten in three races since his return to competition.

Shop-Rite Readies Middletown Store

Final preparations are underway for the Wednesday grand opening of the new Shop-Rite of Middletown, a new supermarket at Route 211 (formerly Route 84) and Certified Drive. The store, which replaces a Shop-Rite destroyed by fire on Dec. 14, 1965, is owned and operated by Bill Rosenberg.

The huge new Shop-Rite with over 25,000 square feet of selling area has many features in addition to its complete food supermarket. A special discount department will be well-stocked with housewares, clothing, kitchen gadgets, bar stools and other household items.

Onondaga Dem Loses Bid, Quits Politics

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — George H. Van Lengen, a former state Senate secretary and chairman of the Onondaga County Democratic committee for the past 4 years, has lost in his bid to retain the party post and retired from active politics. Insurgent George V. Savage, supervisor of the Town of Onondaga, defeated the veteran party leader in an election Thursday night among 451 members of the committee.

When the election results were announced, Van Lengen announced that he would retire.

Franklin Street Church Plans Day Nursery School

A day nursery is being planned at the Franklin Street AME Zion Church, 26 Franklin Street.

Renovation of nursery facilities at the church are now underway. The program will accommodate three to five year olds of working mothers. The nursery will start in August with a program of field trips, art, dramatics, music appreciation and recreation.

Officially known as the Franklin Street AME Zion Church Day Nursery, the project has the following board of directors: The Rev. Vernon A. Douglas, pastor; president, Mrs. Harvey Locke, treasurer; Mrs. Gloria Singleton, secretary; Mrs. Charles Marable Jr., Mrs. Robert Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Little, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Randolph, Mrs. Harold Van Allen, LeRoy Singleton, James Miller, the Rev. William A. Studwell, pastor of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church and the Rev. James A. Braker, pastor of First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Douglas or Mrs. Singleton may be contacted for further information.

Settle Differences

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Milton Shapp, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, and the state Democratic organization looked toward a united campaign effort today after apparently settling their differences at a strategy meeting.

Shapp, who had been feuding with the powerful organization ever since the primary, said after the meeting Thursday, "The Democratic Party has a common purpose. We've arrived at an agreement in principle and spirit."

Thomas Z. Minehart, Democratic state chairman, described the meeting as one of complete harmony.

"Mr. Shapp demonstrated in the primary election the tremendous grass roots support he had for his candidacy," he said. "He's going to be a formidable and successful candidate."

Gets Message

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Leo H. Leary Jr., an investment counselor, closed a lively staff meeting Wednesday by scrawling this sales slogan on the blackboard — "Up with the Irish!"

Opening the office Thursday morning, he was greeted by another blackboard message — "Down with burglars! Lock your doors!" This was signed by Bruce W. Kane, Anaheim police officer.

Troop 9 Returns From Canoe Trip In Adirondacks

Senior Scouts of Troop 9, Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, recently returned from a canoe trip in the Adirondacks Mountains.

Under the leadership of Richard Burns and William Bruce, Senior Scouts Robert Bruce, Alex Nunez, Randy Wells and Ray Wells left Kingston Sunday June 26 for Fish Creek Pond campsite near Saranac Lake, where they camped overnight.

Obtaining canoes from a livery adjacent to the campgrounds, the Scouts set out Monday morning for a five day journey which took them through a series of lakes, ponds and channels weaving through the Adirondack preserve. Though most of the lakes were connected by channels, it was necessary, on occasion, to portage.

For their journey, the Scouts decided to travel as light as possible and only bare essentials were taken—sleeping bags, cook kit, waterjug, axe, shovel, swim suits, first aid kit and very few personal items. Space and weight was conserved by using completely dehydrated foods which the Troop has been using for many years.

All who made the trip qualified for the Fifty Miler Award given for covering the distance over a five day period either afoot or afloat. The Seniors have previously earned this award afoot by covering a portion of the Long Trail in Vermont. Through this canoe trip, the award now has been earned both ways — afoot and afloat.

Each summer, a special activity such as these trips is planned by the Seniors. For next year, they are considering the Historic Trails award.

Weekly Swims Continue
While the Seniors were on their canoe trip, Troop 9 was continuing its usual summer program of weekly swims at Dewitt Lake. The Scouts are divided into three groups — non-swimmers, beginners and swimmers, who work on the Swimming Merit badge. Each group has instructors from Troop leaders, Committeemen or fathers.

This past week, an unusual ceremony was held at the weekly swim session. Through the cooperation of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Edwards at Dewitt Lake, Mark Glass was inducted as a Tenderfoot Scout.

Two Indians in a canoe picked up the candidate on the beach and took him to a float where a chief presented him with his Tenderfoot pin and a headdress. He was then taken back to shore where the Troop was formed in a double line. The new Scout was asked to "run the gauntlet" — proceeded up the aisle and receive congratulations from his fellow Scouts.

The weekly swims will continue throughout the summer. On occasion, there will be a substitution such as a father-son softball game, fun night or a surprise night.

The Chinese were the first to use more than one name.

Rambler Sales Gain

American Motors' Newark Zone has announced the largest sales month since July 1965. June was a 12 per cent increase over that month and 40 per cent over May of this year. June 30 was also the largest 10 days since March 30, 1965, according to William A. Heiss, zone manager.

The zone has been on a constant sales increase since February and already has passed 60 per cent of its June-July objective. A continued dealer improvement program, favorable publicity on American Motors' future plans and hard work on everyone's part are responsible according to Heiss.

Young Women Hurt In Route 299 Crash

Two 18-year-old young women were injured at 10:15 p. m. Thursday when the car in which they were riding went out of control and overturned in a field off Route 299 about three miles east of Route 44-55, according to Highland State Police.

Sergeant William Cameron said Susanna Lewis, 18, of Merchantsville, N. J., was driving east on the highway when the car went off

CNR Cancels N. Y. Passenger Service

MONTREAL (AP) — Officials of the Canadian National Railway say that passenger service on its line between New York City and Montreal will be discontinued Monday.

The carrier said Thursday that the action followed United States approval of an application by the Boston and Maine Railroad to cancel its passenger service between Windsor, Vt., and Springfield, Mass.

The Canadian National depends on service between those two points to support its Montreal-New York run.

The CNR services to be discontinued are a day train in each direction, a night train to New York City and a night train from New York to Montreal.

The Boston and Maine has announced that its passenger trains from Springfield to White River Junction will run for the last time Sunday.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, July 8, the 189th day of 1966. There are 176 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1894, President Grover Cleveland declared martial law in Chicago as the result of strike disorders.

On this date

In 1889, John L. Sullivan beat Jake Kilrain in the 75th round of the last bare-knuckle heavyweight boxing championship fight.

In 1900, the U.S. sent troops to China to suppress the Boxer Rebellion.

In 1907, the famed Ziegfeld Follies was first produced.

In 1945, Japanese suicide planes heavily damaged two of the largest British aircraft carriers in the Pacific — the Indefatigable and the Victorious.

In 1946, the Allied Council of Foreign Ministers agreed to issue invitations for a peace conference in Paris.

Ten years ago — The lay-offs in industries dependent upon steel neared the 100,000 mark as a crippling national steel strike entered its second week.

Five years ago — President Kennedy met at Hyannis Port, Mass., with three of his principal advisers. The session was described as a wide-ranging discussion of the problems of Germany and Berlin.

One year ago — After the second straight day of civil rights marches in Bogalusa, La., two Negroes attacked a white man, shooting and seriously wounding him.

Police estimated about 250 of the tins burst, leaving a 3-inch layer of goo on the intersection.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., July 8 — As we New Englanders say, a lot of water has gone over the dam since our business and financial forecast for 1966 was published here on December 30, 1965. Both the Gross National Product and the Federal Reserve Index of Production have scaled new peaks in the first half of 1966 . . . just as we expected. But the stock market (as we also felt might happen) stumbled while business was climbing.

Foreign Skies Still Clouded

Looking back, we find that last December we counted on more important developments to come out of Russia than actually took place. Very definitely South Vietnam has dominated the international scene. The "fireworks" in that unhappy country may well account for the relative inaction of the Russians.

Also, despite the rumble of threats from Red China, that rousing giant has been preoccupied with shifts in the Peking power setup. These should become increasingly clear later in the year. We were quite right in predicting no major war with either Russia or China. And we still feel our forecast that the balance would swing our way in Vietnam has been borne out, and will become even more apparent when the dry season returns in Southeast Asia.

Gains Harder to Come By

Six months ago we reasoned that the best of 1966 might be seen in the first half. Although some further progress will be made, we still feel that the economy may become more on the defensive. First signs of serious faltering have already occurred in the automobiles. In this field we foresaw last December "no significant upsurge beyond the high levels of the past two years." Looking toward 1967, we now believe it will be even harder for the car builders to make progress. Best bet is that total output will trail last year by 5% or even more. This will act as a minor drag on business generally.

As projected, the bulge in defense spending proceeded on schedule . . . but did not overwhelm our economy; likewise, wage rates and the cost of living spurred, leaving in their wake grave fears of runaway inflation (which has not yet developed) and a slowdown in the rate of profits gain. The biggest block to further substantial advances by business (in addition to the auto slowdown) are the developing paralysis in home building and the checks to the long rise in capital outlays. Last December we expected these retarding trends in development.

Credit the Culprit

Six months ago we said, "... the greater danger will lie in credit inflation, rather than in price inflation." And we have had indeed a mighty boom in credit; but the wellsprings are drying up. Interest rates have soared. More to the point, those who would like to expand — from home builders to school builders — are finding that funds either are not available or can be had only at prohibitive cost.

Some economists have begged the government to use its tax power to slow the economy . . . so credit inflation will not spill over into runaway price inflation and then a big bust. Apparently Uncle Sam has left the job of "cooling off" the boom to the money managers . . . the Federal Reserve Board. It is the old-fashioned way; it is clumsy, somewhat, all-embracing — sort of a shotgun method that hits around as well as on target — and above all it is slow. But just because it is slow, don't think it won't work. It is working. That is why we still look for the final half year to be less boomy than the first half.

On Stocks and Bonds
In our 1966 Forecast, we warned of speculation and gambling in stocks. We also looked for bonds to decline. Actually, bonds have declined more than we expected. They are now at a point where new issues of high quality — "AA" or "AAA" — may be bought on a long maturity basis, especially if they are protected against early call. Certainly they may be better buys than some of the widely touted growth stocks. Indeed, we believe that these days — and the days just ahead — will come to be looked upon as one of the great opportunities of this century for buying and holding top-grade government, local, and corporate bonds with long maturity and with protection against sudden call.

Infant Tries Swimming

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Shawn Leigh Davis is six months old, weighs 21 pounds — and is taking swimming lessons.

She's the daughter of Mrs. John Davis, 26, who is teaching a nursery school class to swim.

Mrs. Davis dunks the infant, and Shawn uses sort of a flutter kick that propels her about three feet toward another instructor waiting to catch her.

Nicklaus Has 4 Stroke Lead In British Open

By RONALD THOMPSON
MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, setting a sizzling pace, matched par for nine holes with a 36 today and stretched his lead to four strokes at the 45 hole mark of the British Open Golf Championships.

While Nicklaus was holding Muirfield at bay, the other leaders soared well over par in high winds and bright sunshine which turned the greens into lightning nightmares.

The blond bomber, who has won everything except this title started the day at 137, five-under, with Peter Butler of England only one shot behind.

Butler, playing with Nicklaus, had two sixes in a 39 which put him at one-under-par for the distance while Big Jack was five under.

Kel Nagle of Australia, Harold Henning of South Africa and Phil Rodgers, La Jolla, Calif., who had been on the 140 mark, all blew on the first nine.

Rodgers, who shot a record-breaking 66 for 140 Thursday, dogged four holes and had a 40, Nagle and Henning each took 39 strokes.

Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif., four behind at 141, had putting troubles and managed a 37. This put him five behind Nicklaus for 45 holes.

Australian Bruce Devlin, a 142 starter, had a 39.

Tony Lama, the 1964 winner from San Leandro, Calif., won in and out of the rough all day and wound up with a 37-39-76 for 223.

Peter Thomson, the five-time champion from Australia, and Robert de Vicenzo of Argentina, led the early third round finishers with 217. Thomson sank a curling eight-foot putt on the final green for a 69. De Vicenzo came home in 33 for a 71.

Three Injured In Ellenville Area 2-Car Collision

Three persons were treated at the Ellenville hospital early today after a two-car collision which occurred at 12:05 a. m. on Route 209 about 1½ miles north of Ellenville.

BCI Investigator Michael Bonney said Raymond Black, 20, of 11 Lake Drive, Ellenville, was driving north and Kenneth Hamilton, 58, also of that village, was emerging from a driveway and attempting a left turn when the vehicles collided.

Black was cited by Trooper R. R. Brooks for driving with improper plates. Hamilton was summoned on a charge of failure to yield the right of way. Both summonses are returnable before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel, Town of Wawarsing.

Hamilton complained of back and rib pains. A passenger in his car, Julia Brackin, 54, of Ellenville, complained of possible chest injuries, and another passenger, Theresa Kenner, 19, of that community, suffered shock. They were taken to Ellenville Community Hospital for treatment.

Two Planes . . .

about six per cent of the installation still remained.

Besides the followup Hai-phong strike, U.S. planes Thursday blasted an oil dump 35 miles north of Hanoi, another 43 miles southeast of Vinh and a missile site 20 miles northeast of Hai-phong. The Air Force also reported destroying 26 boxcars, damaging 48 and cutting the tracks in 28 places.

The Navy said Air Force planes flew a total of 77 missions Thursday. A spokesman said there were about 250 individual plane strikes. The air losses brought the number of American planes shot down since the start of the air war on Feb. 7, 1965, to 282.

The pilot rescued uninjured from the sea by helicopter was identified as Lt. Cmdr. William J. Isenhour of Lemont, Calif., whose Navy A4 Skyhawk was part of the attack force against the Hai-phong depot.

The other plane, an Air Force F105 Thunderchief, was shot down by anti-aircraft fire 90 miles northwest of Hanoi.

The Strategic Air Command's B52s kept up their two-day raids in South Viet Nam. One wave of the Guam-based bombers struck a Viet Cong camp 120 miles west-southwest of Saigon. Another formation hit an enemy concentration 60 miles north-northeast of the capital.

Other U.S. planes flew 359 sorties in the South Thursday. The fliers claimed destruction or damage to 530 structures and killing 41 enemy soldiers. South Vietnamese pilots flew 290 sorties.

Two MIG21s, the best jets in the North Vietnamese air force, jumped a flight of Air Force Thunderchiefs 35 miles north-northeast of Hanoi Thursday. One of the MIGs uncorked two air-to-air missiles but they exploded harmlessly some distance from the American fighter-bombers, a spokesman said.

with the Peace Corps in Liberia. While teaching in an "up country" school, he observed CARE Mission personnel in the administration of a school feeding program and assistance of community development projects.

On his return, he worked as a public relations man for the national administration of the Peace Corps in Washington, D. C., until he joined the CARE Overseas Operations staff in June.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market firmed somewhat early this afternoon as trading dragged.

Volume at noon was a million shares less than at the same hour Thursday and reflected considerable caution on the part of the investment community.

The strike against five major airlines was one factor to upset confidence but most of the airline stocks weathered early selling and either wiped out losses or showed small gains.

Ordinary preweekend caution was heightened by a prominently published article casting doubt about prospects for the traditional summer rally.

A narrowly mixed pattern prevailed among autos, tobacco, rails and electronics. A few of the glamor stocks showed wide swings either way but most movements were limited.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 3 at 323.3 with industrials up 1.2, rails unchanged and utilities up .7.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .50 at 892.14, having wiped out an early loss of 1.11.

Of the five truck airlines, the only one to show a loss in early afternoon was National which was down more than a point.

A 3-point loss by IBM and a 2-point jump by Control Data featured the computer issues, nearly 3 points. Boeing sank .1.

United Aircraft rebounded nearly 3 points. Boeing sank about 1½.

Du Pont's rise of more than a point helped firm the averages. Also helpful was Anaconda's 3-point hop and Kennecott's 1-point advance.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were generally lower in moderate trading.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market firmed somewhat early this afternoon as trading dragged.

Volume at noon was a million shares less than at the same hour Thursday and reflected considerable caution on the part of the investment community.

The strike against five major airlines was one factor to upset confidence but most of the airline stocks weathered early selling and either wiped out losses or showed small gains.

Ordinary preweekend caution was heightened by a prominently published article casting doubt about prospects for the traditional summer rally.

A narrowly mixed pattern prevailed among autos, tobacco, rails and electronics. A few of the glamor stocks showed wide swings either way but most movements were limited.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 3 at 323.3 with industrials up 1.2, rails unchanged and utilities up .7.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .50 at 892.14, having wiped out an early loss of 1.11.

Of the five truck airlines, the only one to show a loss in early afternoon was National which was down more than a point.

A 3-point loss by IBM and a 2-point jump by Control Data featured the computer issues, nearly 3 points. Boeing sank .1.

United Aircraft rebounded nearly 3 points. Boeing sank about 1½.

Du Pont's rise of more than a point helped firm the averages. Also helpful was Anaconda's 3-point hop and Kennecott's 1-point advance.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were generally lower in moderate trading.

PLAN FALL FUND DRIVE—Ulster County Community Chest funds demonstrate the need for $299,600 for operating expenses in 1967. The fall campaign will be held in September and October to raise this amount which the agencies must have to continue services in the community. inadequate access roads. Businessmen of the area have opposed the proposed plan. Recommendations will be made to the Town Board and submitted to the State Department of Public Works toward rectifying the situation.

An agreement was reached between the Town Board and the town superintendent of highways for repairs to the entrance road to the Whittier Development on Route 32. The entrance will be repaved and blacktopped. Work will be started this month.

10,184 Town Census

A report was received from the Department of Commerce, Census Bureau, Washington, D. C., fixing the official census of the town of 10,184. A special census was recently held in the town. A report will now be filed with the State Department of Audit and Control, notifying them of the increased population in the town in order to participate in greater state aid monies. The increase in population should give the town considerable additional state aid based on per capita participation.

A contract was received from Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. fixing the annual charge to the town at $949.50 for the town's share in lighting the Route 28 traffic circle. Work has been started on installation of the lighting system and it is expected to be completed by the end of this month. The County of Ulster will share in the lighting cost in a like amount.

Hurley Votes No

The Town of Hurley at a meeting held June 17, voted not to participate in a proposed combined water district with the Town of Ulster in the Spring Lake-Rolling Meadows area. It had been proposed that a joint water district might be worked out to supply the Spring Lake area in the Town of Ulster and the Rolling Meadows area in the Town of Hurley. Town of Ulster Board was notified of the action of the Hurley Board by letter received Thursday night.

A request from the operators of Sunset Gardens seeking to have Dalewood Street changed back to a two-way street was denied by the board. It was voted to retain the present one-way to Boice's Lane. That regulation has been in effect for a year.

A committee was named to get information on the new Tax Relief Law for persons over 65 who have an income of less than $3,000. This legislation was sponsored by Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson (R), Ulster, and awaits Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's signature. The committee, Councilman Anthony Cicoria, and William D. Costello and Supervisor Musialkiewicz, will investigate the provisions or the legislation and report back at the August 4 meeting on how it will affect the town and whether the town should take action on the law.

Prior to the meeting of the Town Board a public hearing was held on repeal of the existing town junk ordinance adopted April 27, 1955. There was no opposition to repeal and the Town of Ulster will operate temporarily under the provisions of the New York State law pending preparation of a new junk ordinance which will be presented at the August board meeting. Public hearings will be held on the ordinance which will be prepared by the town attorney.

Doctor's Car Found

A police report at 12:32 a. m. today noted recovery in the vicinity of Dietz Stadium of the car of Dr. Sidney C. Pauker, of 303 Clinton Avenue, which was reported stolen from that street Thursday. It was found by Officers Gerald Tierney and Robert Zweben.

Bring Up Block

dence was taken from the river. Trooper Zappalo said that during the month-long search of the river for the boy's body, the bag and the block, divers have been hampered by the murky water in the Hudson which reduced visibility to about six feet. He said the divers have combed the entire river bottom in the immediate vicinity of the Kingston-Rhinecliff span and have found numerous objects that have been taken ashore for examination.

Only one mishap has been reported during the search. One State Police diver was hospitalized for an ear infection which developed after he had been in the river several times assisting in the search.

The underwater search for the body of the Rossiello boy began early in June under command of Major A. J. Robson, Troop C commander. Captain Edgar Croswell and Lieut. A. P. Van Blaricum, Zone 1 commander.

Utilized in the river search by state troopers are rafts, power boats from the Ulster County sheriff's office and State Police stations and a U. S. Army "duck" which was piloted yesterday by Trooper George of Troop K.

An Army detail from West Point and men from the Coast Guard assisted during the early phases of the search.

State Police divers at the search scene yesterday were: Troopers John F. Ryan, John Schmidt, Jerry Storch, James Quinn, Donald Voght, John Safford, of Troop K; Edward Raynolds, Robert Burns, Thomas Bowman and Michael O'Rourke of Troop A; Troopers James Curtis, Richard Beauman, David Johns and Brian O'Connor of Troop C, and John Gasbara, Troop G.

Others assisting were Troopers Warren K. Milne, Martin J. Cech, Warren C. Curtis and Donald Porter.

With the finding of the cinder block, which authorities consider "important evidence," the search today was intensified as hope was seen that the body might be found.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Mary Rossiello, 37, of 2022 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, has been confined in the county jail here for several months. She is held as a material witness in the alleged slaying of her son.

Investigation of the case was begun months ago after a brother of the victim told neighbors in Brooklyn that Victor had disappeared. After preliminary investigation by state police investigators, search for Rickard was started and extended throughout the country.

Authorities learned that Rickard had signed up as a seaman aboard a cargo ship bound for India. A grand jury handed up a sealed indictment, and Rickard was taken into custody as he left a cargo ship after it docked in Madras, India.

District Attorney Joseph P. Torraca instituted extradition proceedings and several weeks ago Senior BCI Investigator Michael Lisman and Assistant District Attorney Robert A. MacKinnon went to India, armed with Presidential papers.

After hearings, Rickard was released in custody of Lisman and MacKinnon and brought back to Ulster County to face the murder charge. The accused slayer's extradition from India was reported to be the first ever involving that country and the United States.

At the time Rickard was formally booked at the county jail he said he had no permanent address.

Sen. Byrd Holds On in Deep Coma

BERRYVILLE, Va. (AP) — Former U.S. Sen. Harry F. Byrd, senior statesman of Virginia politics, remained in a deep coma today at his home here.
There was no reported change in the condition of the 79-year-old Byrd. A son, Richard E. Byrd, first revealed Wednesday that his father was in a coma from a malignant brain tumor and not expected to recover.
Byrd, a former Virginia governor, served 32 years in the U.S. Senate before retiring last November. He was succeeded by another son, Harry F. Byrd Jr., who interrupted his campaign for the Democratic nomination for the remaining four years of his father's term Thursday to hurry to his father's bedside.

Thunderstorms Rage In South, Great Plains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Thunderstorms continued during the early morning in sections of the South and the Great Plains after an outbreak of violent weather Thursday.

Heavy rain doused areas in Florida, Alabama and South Carolina. Earlier severe winds and rain storms hit central Tennessee, with two dead in Nashville, several injured and extensive property damage.

The storm hit hardest at Nashville and Rutherford County. Power was knocked out in several hundred homes in Nashville and Knoxville. Winds of 90 m.p.h. lashed Murfreesboro, 22 miles southeast of Nashville. Winds were clocked at 69 m.p.h. at Nashville.

The dead included an 11-year-old girl who was electrocuted when a power line toppled by strong winds made contact with her bicycle. A 56-year-old man died, apparently of a heart attack, as he helped clear trees blown across a street.

Report Bomb in Thai

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A small bomb was reported to have exploded early Thursday in the market place at Udorn, site of an American air base in northeast Thailand.
Press reports said there were no casualties but several food stalls were damaged.
The reports indicated that the bomb was planted by Communist terrorists.

Cites News Labor Rift

TOKYO (AP) — U.S. Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz said today labor relations in the American newspaper industry are "one of the three most unsatisfactory situations" in U.S. collective bargaining.
He said there is a lack of continuity in relations between labor and management with both sides storing up grievances over long periods.

Everyone concerned is "very distressed" with the situation, Wirtz said.

"No one likes to hear of a newspaper dying, but several have done so in recent years," he added.

Wirtz made the remarks in answer to questions at the Foreign Correspondents Club of Japan where he spoke at a luncheon.

HONOLULU (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is in Hawaii discussing the Viet Nam war with the U.S. Pacific high command, and determining the manpower and equipment requirements for future operations against the Communists.
McNamara dismissed as "idle speculation" any talk that Hanoi wanted to retire from the conflict but he noted a sign of "war weariness among the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese military personnel fighting in South Viet Nam."

Hurley House Day To Feature New Booth Saturday

A new feature of the annual Stone House Tour in Hurley Saturday 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. will be a souvenir corner offering many unusual and attractive items such as "Stone House aprons," Hurley Kitchen Kas (hand printed) Cookbooks with old Hurley recipes, antique souvenir maps of the old village matted for framing, unique hand work of various kinds, plus homemade candy and cookies.

This corner is to be found at the Hurley Reformed Church where tickets for the tour may be purchased and where ample parking is provided. A continuous cafeteria will be served at the church from 11 a. m.

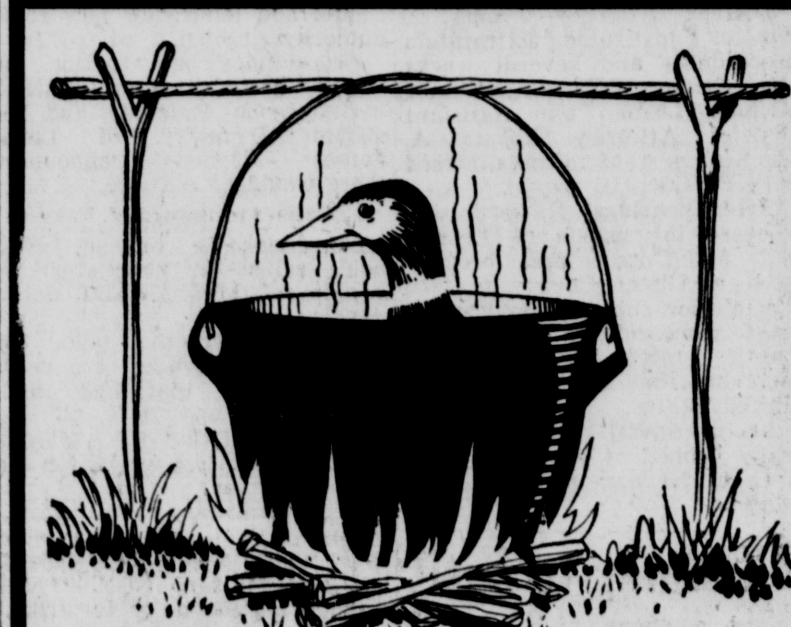

Seven of the 13 old stone houses which will be open to the public Saturday are within two blocks walking distance of the church. A shuttle service, as always, is ready to take guests to the other houses. Dutch-costumed hostesses in each of the houses will explain the history and answer questions.

Goldberg Talks With Pontiff, About Bombing

VATICAN CITY (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg conferred with Pope Paul VI for 50 minutes today and reportedly explained the bombing of the Haiphong and Hanoi oil depots which the Vatican has deplored.

It was Goldberg's second visit to the Pope in seven months. They met for an hour on Dec. 29, during the U.S. "peace offensive" that failed to bring the Communists to the negotiating table.

The audience today, like the first one, was not publicized in advance. Goldberg, the chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations, came to Rome Thursday night from Geneva, reportedly to talk to Italian government leaders about the stepped-up bombing.

He was to see President Giuseppe Saragat and Premier Aldo Moro today, talk Saturday to Foreign Minister Amintore Fanfani, president of the last session of the U.N. General Assembly, and then return to Geneva.

Charge Pathologists With Price-Fixing

CHICAGO (AP) — The 4,500 member College of American Pathologists—doctors who own and work in medical laboratories—has been charged with a price-fixing conspiracy by the Justice Department.

The department Thursday accused the college, which denied the charge, of conspiring to monopolize the nation's 20,000 commercial medical laboratories which have annual sales in excess of $3 billion.

The college, replying in a statement, said:
"The timing of this action, coming as it does at the inception of Medicare and immediately following the American Medical Association annual meeting, makes it appear this is but the first step in a campaign of harassment of the entire medical profession by the government."
